On the Cover:
This year Clemson will honor its Centennial Team members on the cover of each program. This week we honor six Tiger greats who were natives of the Carolinas. Donnell Woolford (Fayetteville, NC) is one of just two defensive backs in Clemson history to be named first team All-American twice. Dexter Davis (Sumter, SC) was a two-time first-team All-ACC choice who played five years in the NFL. Charlie Timmons (Abbeville, SC) was Clemson's leading rusher in the 1940s and top rusher in Clemson's Cotton Bowl victory over Boston College. Wayne Mass (Sumter, SC) was an All-American lineman on Clemson's 1966 ACC title team. The Bostic brothers, Joe and Jeff (Greensboro, NC) were mainstays of the Clemson offensive line in the 1970s and both played many years in the NFL. Cover painting by Michael Taylor of Sodus, MI.

TODAY'S GAME

By Tim Bourret

Tigers on Four-Game Win Streak

Clemson has been a good team down the stretch under Tommy West and the stretch drive for the 1996 season is here. Clemson has won four in a row after starting out 2-3. Last year Clemson got off to a 3-3 start, then won its last five regular season games. In West's first year the Tigers were 2-5 at the start, then won three of their last four games.

Clemson is in the middle of playing four games in November, and the Tigers are 2-0 in the month so far, a 35-3 win over Maryland and a 24-16 victory at then 15th ranked Virginia. The Tigers are 7-1 under West in games played in November and the Tigers are 17-4 in November in the decade of the 1990s.

Actually, October 17 seems to be the magic change day for Clemson football. Maybe it has to do with the leaves changing or something. But, since 1988, Clemson is 40-10 in games played after October 17, a .800 winning percentage. Clemson is 32-20-1 in games played before October 17 since 1988, a .613 winning percentage.

Why has Clemson made the improvement over the last four games. There are many reasons and a look at the chart documents them. Clemson has been more productive on offense, scoring 25 points a game in the last four games after scoring just 13.4 in the first five. Clemson has been productive in the redzone (inside the 20) both offensively and defensively. In the first five games Clemson scored a touchdown just 42 percent of its redzone opportunities and has scored a touchdown 75 percent of the time (9 of 12) over the last four games.

Turnovers, Rushing Margin the Key

Turnover margin and and rushing margin have long been cited as the key stats by Clemson coaches and we have the stats to prove it, this year and over the long term. In last week's victory at Virginia, Clemson had just one turnover on offense and forced three defensively, thus coming away with a +2 turnover margin. Clemson also outrushed Virginia, 263-114, a key to the 24-16 victory, Clemson's third win over a ranked team on the road in the 1990s.

Clemson is now 6-0 this year and 16-1 under Tommy West when it wins the turnover margin and rushing margin in the same game. The only loss took place at Duke in 1994, a contest in which Clemson had a +1 turnover margin and won the rushing game, 127-60. Duke still won 19-13.

Since 1977, or 20 seasons, Clemson has an incredible 105-6-2 record in games in which it wins the turnover margin and the rushing margin. That is a 94 percent winning percentage. See why Clemson coaches stress turnovers and rushing ability?

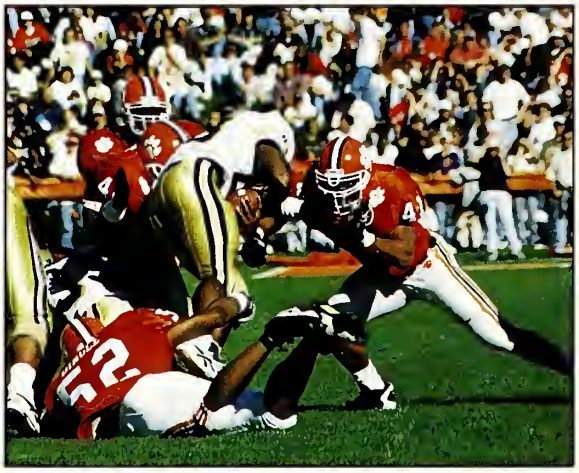
You can see that stat in all levels of football. Over the last three years the San Francisco 49ers beat Dallas three straight games and in those games the 49ers committed just one turnover to 12 by the Cowboys. Last Sunday, the 49ers committed three turnovers to just one for Dallas. The result, a Cowboys victory.

Simmons-Wilson Provide One-Two Punch

Clemson has one of the best one-two punches in college football at the inside linebacker position. Sophomore Anthony Simmons and junior Mond Wilson are both over 100 tackles for the season, the first time since 1994 Clemson has had a pair of inside linebackers with at least 100 tackles in a season. Both have a strong chance of finishing the season with over 125 tackles, something that has not happened since 1978 when Bubba Brown had 170 and Randy Scott picked up 134.

Simmons already has exceeded the 125 figure and has 133 for the season. He already has the ninth best single season figure in Clemson history in just nine games. Last week Simmons had 17 tackles in the win at Virginia, including two sacks. Simmons averages 14.8 tackles per game, ahead of the Clemson record of 14.6 by Jeff Davis in 1981. Simmons also leads the team in sacks with seven. He averages a tackle every 3.9 plays, and has had double figures in every game this season and 18 of his 21 career games.

Wilson has 102 tackles for the year, an average of 11.3 tackles per game. He has five tackles for loss and is coming off a 12-tackle performance at Virginia. He had a career high 18 tackles in 62 plays against Georgia Tech and has five double-figure tackle games this season. He was ACC Defensive Lineman of the Week against North Carolina last year when he had 16 stops.



Wilson (#42) and Simmons (#41) are both among the ACC's top tacklers. Simmons is a nominee for the Bronko Nagurski Award, the National Defensive Player of the Year.

Clemson vs. N.C. State
The 16th Annual Textile Bowl

Clemson and N.C. State will do battle in the 16th annual Textile Bowl when the two teams meet in Death Valley today. Clemson has a 10-5 advantage in the series since the game took on the Textile Bowl title in 1981. The Textile Industry has a very important effect on the economy of North Carolina and South Carolina and the two schools competing in Saturday's game.

Overall, Clemson has a 40-23-1 lead in the series with N.C. State, including a 16-9 advantage in games at Clemson and 13-9 in games at Death Valley. Clemson has an 11-1-1 advantage in the series in games played at neutral sites.

Clemson Coach Tommy West has a 1-1 record against N.C. State as a head coach and the Tigers were 5-3 against the Pack when he was an assistant coach (1982-89). Clemson lost to the Pack three years in a row (1986-88) when he was an outside linebacker coach.

The two teams have split the last 10 meetings and no team has won two in a row in the series since the Tigers won in 1989-91. The Tigers won last year 43-22 thanks to six Clemson interceptions, including a record tying three by Leomont Evans.

Academic Scholarships to Benefit from Tigers on TV

Clemson Athletic Director Bobby Robinson announced October 31 that the athletic department will donate an estimated $2 million over the next five years for academic scholarships. Clemson will donate 70 percent of the new dollars generated by the Atlantic Coast Conference football television contract to Clemson's general scholarship endowment.

"The new football television contract that the Atlantic Coast Conference has entered into should generate an estimated $600,000 in additional dollars to each institution, and we will donate approximately $420,000 to the general scholarship fund each year," said Robinson.

Clemson Financial Aid Director Marvin Carmichael said the gift will significantly improve Clemson's ability to recruit and retain top scholars. "An unrestricted endowment of this size gives us tremendous flexibility to develop scholarship packages that provide appropriate recognition for outstanding achievers and meet the university's objectives in student recruitment," Carmichael said.

During the 1995-96 academic year, Clemson's athletic department raised $171,298 for the IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment, one of the university's largest academic scholarship endowments with over $2.6 million. The department contributed another $1 million for scholarships last year from revenues generated by playing host to the Carolina Panthers.

"Increasing our endowment for academic scholarships is one of the university's highest priorities," said President Constantine W. Curris. "To continue attracting to Clemson a high caliber of students, we must increase our ability to offer the kind of scholarship and financial assistance being provided in neighboring states. This commitment from the athletic department and IPTAY will significantly enhance our ability to compete for the best students."

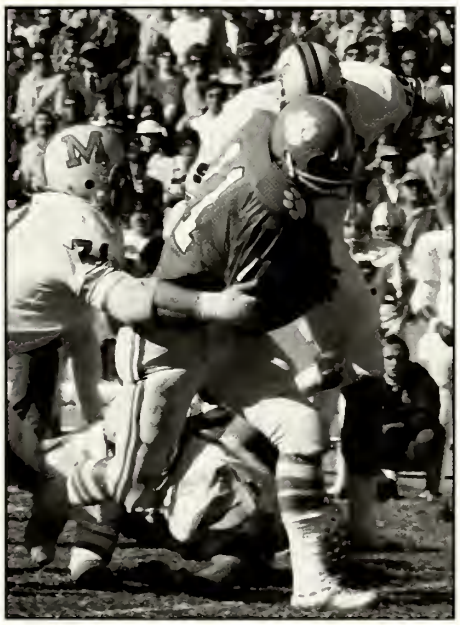
Tigers Face Grad, Again

Clemson will face a Clemson graduate when the N.C. State Wolfpack plays Clemson today. Mike O'Cain, Clemson's 1976 team MVP as a quarterback and punter, is the head coach of the Wolfpack, the only Clemson graduate who is a Division I Head Coach. Bobby Johnson, a 1973 Clemson graduate, is the head coach at Furman, a Division I-AA school. O'Cain is in his fourth year at N.C. State and has a 1-2 record against the Tigers.

O'Cain is the only Clemson graduate to coach against Clemson with a Division I team. Clemson never faced a Clemson graduate on the opposing sideline until 1992. The only Clemson graduate in history to serve as Clemson's Head Football Coach is Shack Shealy, Clemson class of '00, who coached Clemson during the 1904 season.

O'Cain ranks 12th in Clemson history in passing efficiency. O'Cain was 91-182 for 1291 yards and six touchdowns in his career with the Tigers. He lettered in 1974-75-76 and was the team MVP in 1976 when he also punted for the Tigers. He held the Clemson record for rushing yardage in a game by a Clemson quarterback until 1994. He had 140 yards rushing, ironically against N.C. State, in 1976. That was a mark that stood until 1994 when Louis Solomon had 159 yards rushing from the quarterback position against Wake Forest.

O'Cain defeated his alma mater in 1994 at Death Valley by a 29-12 score.



O'Cain held the Clemson single game quarterback rushing record for nearly 20 years.

Clemson vs. Ranked Teams

Clemson added another ranked victory to its growing list of big wins. The win at Virginia was the second ranked win for the Tigers this year. The Tigers defeated 22nd ranked Georgia Tech on October 19th to gain another ranked victory. Virginia was ranked 15th when the Tigers gained the win at Charlottesville, Clemson's third road win over a ranked team in the 1990s.

Clemson has had 17 wins over Top 25 teams in the last 10 years and has had at least one ranked win in 10 of the last 11 years. Clemson had a streak of nine straight years with at least one ranked win broken last year. At the time, only Miami (FL) had a streak as long.

White Has 73 Tackles

Raymond White moved from defensive tackle to middle guard this year and he is adjusting very well to the change. In fact he is having his best year by far. The junior has 73 total tackles this season, third on the team and best among Clemson defensive linemen. He has averaged a tackle every 8.1 plays, also third best on the team.

White has been outstanding of late and has had a career high 12 tackles in two of the last three games, against Georgia Tech and Virginia. He was a key to Clemson holding both C.J. Williams of Georgia Tech and Tiki Barber of Virginia to under 3.3 yards per carry. The two had just 141 yards in 48 attempts between them.

The Virginia game was the third time this year that White has had a double figure tackle effort. The native of Mississippi had 11 tackles in the victory over Wake Forest. He has had at least six tackles in each of the last eight games and has averaged 9.2 tackles a game over the last six contests.

White became the first middle guard to have double figures in tackles in a game since the 1993 North Carolina game when Carlos Curry had 10 tackles. White's 12 tackles against Georgia Tech and Virginia were the most by a Clemson middle guard since 1991 when All-American Rob Bodine had 13 against Georgia Tech.

Joe Woods

by Brett Berg

"It is not true that nice guys finish last. Nice guys are winners before the game ever starts." —Addison Walker

This is one quote that definitely epitomizes Joe Woods. The senior wide receiver on this year's Tiger football team, is a winner on the field, but he is also a winner before he ever takes the field. Too many people judge athletes solely by their performances on the field, while disregarding their accomplishments out of the athletic arena. Many times we overlook the type of human being, the type of person that lies beneath the uniform. In the case of Joe Woods, he can best be described as a leader off of the field and on it.

Who might you think that a leader like Joe credits with his success? "I owe all glory and praise to my Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ," says Joe. "Through his blessings I was able to come here on a scholarship." Who else does Joe credit? "My mother and my father, they have always backed me on any decision that I've ever made in my life. I've been blessed tremendously. Now I'm trying to let my light shine to the players on the team."

Woods lets his light shine figuratively, by being an example to the younger players on how to be a good person and a good athlete. Joe also lets his light shine, in a more practical sense, from his apartment every Wednesday night. Every Wednesday, Woods hosts a Bible study in his apartment. After treatment, school, strength training, practice, and more treatment, he still finds time to have a Bible study with fellow football players.

"I'm trying to open up the word to other guys, so they can bless other people. I'm trying to live a Christ-like life," says Woods, "as to say, being a Christian means to be Christ-like, so that's my motto." The weekly Bible study has opened three other football players, who had not previously accepted God, to accept God as their Lord and Savior.

Besides the Bible study, Woods has little time to engage in much else. His daily regiment starts at 6:25 am with going to treatment for a lower back problem, that he received against Florida State. Then comes school and classes, followed by team meetings, strength training, practice, more treatment, and study time. His days at Clemson are full, but it wasn't always so.

Coming out of high school in Union, SC, Woods was recruited heavily by Mississippi, Clemson, South Carolina, Michigan, and N.C. State. He chose Mississippi to get away and try life on his own. After two years with the Ole Miss Rebels, where he played in all but one game, Woods played in the first game of his junior year and then had to sit out the rest of the year with an injury.

His injury turned out to be a herniated disc that was pinching a nerve and had to be operated on. After going through surgery, Mississippi was put on probation and Joe was becoming homesick, he wanted to come back to South Carolina. "Coach West allowed me to come play and he gave me another opportunity, another chance to come home." NCAA rules allow a player to transfer without sitting out a season when a school is put on probation for the remainder of an athlete's career. So, Woods was eligible right away.

Since returning home, Woods has made his impact on the Tiger offense. Starting in 10 of 12 games for the Tigers last season, Woods had his most memorable sporting experience with 9:29 left in the first half against North Carolina. Nealon Greene connected with Woods for a 30-yard touchdown, giving Woods his first collegiate score. "Coach West told me he was going to get me a touchdown that week. The ball took so long to come down. I was just waiting for it, and when it did I just exploded." Explode he did, breaking a scoreless game, and leading Clemson onto victory.

So far this year, Woods has led the way in the receiving corps. Through the Maryland game, Woods was tied for the team lead in receptions with 20, second in total receiving yards with 301, and first in touchdown receptions, with three.

The dynamic duo of Green-to-Woods hooked up early in the Wake Forest game. After downing the opening kickoff in the end zone, Woods and his Tiger teammates took the ball first-and-10 on their own 20. Then it happened, one play is all it took. Green dropped back to pass, looking for his cohort on the right sideline. He lofted a pass over the outstretched hands of the Demon Deacon defense, right into Woods' hands. One play, 80 yards, 13 seconds. Clemson 7, Wake Forest 0.

Against the Maryland Terrapins two weeks ago, Woods was the recipient of three more Greene passes. With 47 seconds to go in the first half Woods hauled in a 10-yard screen pass over the middle for another Tiger touchdown.

"Joe Woods is a great man off the field and a leader on it," says Nealon Greene. "He wants the ball, and I look to get him the ball, because I know he will do something with it." Many Tiger fans hope that the dynamic duo will wreak havoc on the Wolfpack defense today and we will hear 'Greene passes to Woods . . . Touchdown!' many times.

"Joe Woods is one of the leaders of this football team," said Clemson Head Coach Tommy West. "I am a Joe Woods fan. A lot of transfers have trouble fitting in when they join a program, but Joe has been an asset to this program from the day he got here. He helps the team in many ways."

Woods grew up in South Carolina, but came to the Tigers by way of the University of Mississippi.

On top of his receiving prominence, Woods' also has returned kickoffs for Clemson this year. He has returned seven kickoffs for 122 yards and a 17.4 yard average. The stats would have been much better had a 90-yard return not been called back by a penalty against North Carolina.

Woods will graduate in December with a degree in psychology. He is already preparing his resume, but hopes to take a crack at NFL combines next spring. He wants to thank Bill D'Andrea for helping him make the transition to Clemson. "Bill D'Andrea has always been my friend from day one. He helped me get everything situated," says Woods.

Coach West has been another positive influence upon Joe. "Even from day one when he recruited me when he was at South Carolina, he's always true to what he says. He came and recruited me as a friend, and now he's always going to be a friend, regardless if he's the coach or not."

So next time you hear the saying 'nice guys finish last,' don't believe it. If anyone can prove that wrong, it is Joe Woods. Someone who is not only in the top of his class on the field, but off the field as well.

LIFELINE

by Tim Bourret

Clemson University's Vickery Hall has been a trend setter since it opened in 1991 as the first stand-alone facility in the country built exclusively for student-athlete enhancement in academics and personal growth. The facility features 10 classrooms, 28 tutorial rooms and a computer laboratory that has recently been expanded to accommodate over 40 terminals.

The over 90 tutors employed by the facility are certified through the College Reading and Learning Association's International Tutoring Certification program. Clemson is one of just two programs in the nation to be a Level I certified program (Boston College is the other).

"Clemson is a model program when it comes to student-athlete enhancement," said Dr. Tom Jackson of the University of Arkansas, one of the recent speakers to all of Clemson's student-athletes. "Other Universities that are trying to start such programs, or improve the ones they have look to Clemson as a guideline."

The academic support program at Clemson continues to show signs of progress and success. Last spring, student-athletes posted a combined 2.57 GPA, the highest combined GPA for student-athletes on record. A total of 124 student-athletes were on the academic honor roll for the semester and 110 were on the ACC Academic Honor roll for the year, 27 more than any other previous year.

Seventeen of the 110 honorees were Clemson football players, also a single year record. The list also included academic All-American Andye McCrorey, now a full-time employee with the athletic department. The academic performance has been consistent, department wide. Every athletic team has had at least a 2.0 for four consecutive semesters and every team was over a 2.20 for the year.

The mission of Vickery Hall is to provide guidance in three areas, academics, personal growth and development and career enhancement.

Vickery invests in personal growth seminars that are provided over a 16-week series for freshmen, and there are also many seminars over the course of the semester for all student-athletes. The sessions range from addressing stress management, sexual responsibility, increased visibility, social pressures, media relations, conflict resolution, goal setting, and cultural diversity.

Clemson has been one of 10 schools used as a pilot institution in developing the NCAA's Life Skills/CHAMPS program, making it a mentor for other student-athlete programs.

Raymond Priester is one of the leaders of Clemson's Lifeline Program.

"Being a Clemson student-athlete can be a wonderful experience," says Bill D'Andrea director of Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment program. "But, it comes with equal responsibilty. One of our goals is to assist students in balancing academic and athletic time demands."

In addition to helping freshmen make a smooth transtion into college life, the personal growth and development program includes junior and senior student-athletes. New programs are geared toward current issues and conflicts. This fall, D'Andrea established LIFEline- leaders in football and education- to provide more peer leadership for academic and athletic experience.

LIFEline's members are committed to creating a positive team image, well developed goals and objectives, sound values and smart decision making. The group's goals are striving to enhance academic and athletic excellence, develop personal leadership skills and promote leadership qualities in other team members, promote career development on the team and encourage teammates to volunteer in community projects.

The 13 players who lead the group are involved in monthly retreats, hear from speakers and presentations, and sponsor freshmen in an effort to aid their transition to college academics and athletics. The members of this leadership group are Brad Pope, Tony DeSue, Michael Allen, Anthony Simmons, Carl Baker, Holland Postell, Raymond Priester, Raymond White, Kevin Laird, Brandon Streeter, Nealon Greene, Mark Landry and Glenn Rountree.

"Being a good leader involves no mysterious methods nor profound philosophical approaches," said D'Andrea. "It is all quite simple and reasonable because people want to do the right thing. Improper behavior generally springs from poor decisions. If a player does something wrong, a good leader simply tells him or shows him how to do it right. This applies on and off the field, in and out of the classroom, and on and off our campus."

This semester, the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has begun a faculty/ staff mentoring service in which deans, professors, administrators, and staff professionals serve as mentors for student-athletes. Student-athletes are also encouraged to serve as mentors to kids in the surrounding communitites. Through the Clemson Student - Athlete Speakers' Bureau and such projects as Helping Hands, they can make a positive impact off the playing field.

"Our programs are designed to give each student-athlete every opportunity to reach his or her academic potential," says D'Andrea. "Trying in all three focus areas, academics, personal growth and career enhancement, helps prepare them for the time they spend at Clemson as well as for successful careers."

Dr. Deno Curris

Midway through his first year as president of Clemson University, Constantine W. "Deno" Curris addressed a faculty meeting by saying that he truly felt like a freshman at times—"excited to be here, but sometimes not sure exactly where I am." But by year's end, Curris had earned the ultimate compliment when an alumus said,

"When I talk to him about Clemson, I feel like I'm the newcomer."

Curris hit the ground running when he became Clemson's 13th president on May 22, 1995. Among his early accomplishments were fine-tuning the academic reorganization of 1994 by adding a fifth college, establishing benchmark institutions to give students, parents and the public a way to measure Clemson, and setting out to fill key appointments.

Other high priorities included acquainting himself with the history and culture of Clemson, advocating Clemson's legislative goals in Columbia, and meeting members of the "Clemson Family" throughout the state and nation.

He also assumed a national leadership role of his own, being named to the Kellogg Commission on the Future of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges, and becoming Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Before coming to Clemson, Curris served as president of the University of Northern Iowa for 11 years and as president of Murray State University In Kentucky for 10 years before that. His presidencies at both universities were periods of growth and advancement, and he sees Clemson as another institution well-positioned to move ahead.

"Clemson has effected significant organizational and program changes to position the university and its students for the 21st century. Our task in the years ahead is to use this foundation and to build Clemson into a strong university with national stature and visibility," he said.

To help build Clemson's reputation and stature, Curris outlined three goals for the coming year.

First, in order to improve the educational program, Curris established a committee to define what makes the Clemson experience unique.

"I believe this definition is a necessary first step in building Clemson's reputation for the quality of our education programs and the capabilities of our graduates.

Second, he has established a goal of $50 million annually in competitively -awarded federal research funding—which would be roughly a 30 percent increase.

The third major goal is recruiting the university's future—the brightest young faculty, the most promising professional staff, the best undergraduate and graduate students.

Meeting challenging goals is a Curris trademark. At Murray State, he oversaw extensive campus renovations and improvements, including a student center which was later named for him. At UNI, he led the school in raising admissions standards and implementing a more rigorous comprehensive general education program. UNI gained national recongition in many programs during the period and was cited in 1993 as one of the best educational values among public universities by U.S. News & World Report.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude, in political science from the University of Kentucky, a master's in political science and public administration from the University of Illinois, and his doctorate in higher educaton from the University of Kentucky.

When his schedule permits, Curris enjoys gardening, fishing and reading. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney and author.

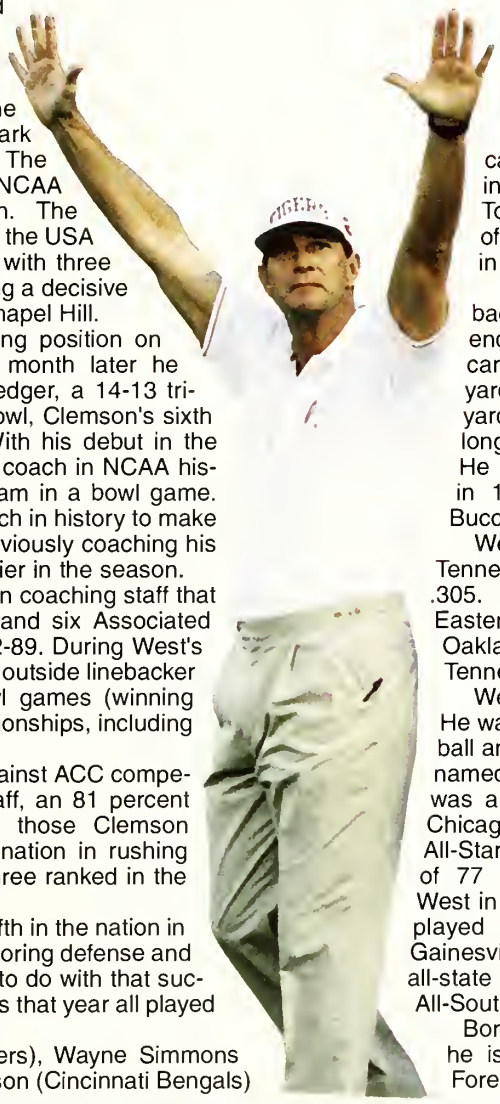
Tommy West

Tommy West entered his second year at the helm of the Clemson program with success on his mind, and that is what he achieved. He guided the 1995 Tigers to an 8-4 record, its best ACC ranking in four years, and a selection to a January 1 Bowl game.

For the second straight year, the Tigers showed marked improvement as the season progressed and the young team won its last five games of the regular season, four by at least 17 points. The run of success at the end of the season had the Tigers in the top 25 of every poll. West's Tigers were picked fifth in the ACC preseason poll, but, thanks to the third best offense in Clemson history and a defense that ranked 10th in the nation in scoring, Clemson finished third in the ACC standings with a 6-2 record, its best league finish since the Tigers won the ACC title in 1991.

The 1995 campaign was one in which Clemson excelled in every area. The Tigers ranked fourth in the country in rushing, yet also led the ACC in yards per pass attempt. Defensively, Clemson rated in the top 20 in the nation in rushing defense, passing efficiency defense and turnover margin. In terms of special teams, Clemson was the only school in the nation to have an individual ranked in the top 25 in punting, placekicking, punt returns and kickoff returns.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The team lost just two fumbles, fewest in NCAA history over the course of a season. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in their last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.



West took over the head coaching position on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph over Kentucky in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl win in an eight year period. With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89. During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1995.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (Cincinnati Bengals) were starters in 1994 in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) was a top reserve. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl with a win over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yard pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, now with the Oakland A's, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a third-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 7.

Assistant Coaches

Les Herrin

Les Herrin

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Line

The Clemson football program has seen a lot success during Les Herrin's tenure as an assistant coach. In 1981, Herrin arrived at Clemson as a linebacker coach, and the Tigers won the National Championship that season. In his first tour of duty with the Tigers (1981-84) Clemson had a 37-6-2 record during that span. Herrin is the dean of Clemson coaches and is now in his 12th season in Tigertown.

After a brief stint away from Clemson at East Carolina (1985-87) and North Carolina (1988), Herrin returned to the Tiger program in 1989 as defensive line coach. In 1989 Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, rushing, and total defense. The team followed that perfromance with a number-one ranking in total defense in 1990, as well as second in scoring and rushing defense.

Herrin has coached several players who have had successful NFL careers. Herrin coached 1981 ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and entered the Clemson Ring of Honor last year. He also tutored 1989 All-Pro Johnny Rembert (New England Patriots), who was a linebacker under Herrin's watchful eye in 1981 and 1982. Chester McGlockton, a Pro Bowl defensive lineman with the Los Angeles Raiders the past two seasons, and Pittsburgh Steelers Super Bowl starter Brentson Buckner, also benefitted from Herrin's teaching.

Darrell Moody

Darrell Moody

Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Darrell Moody is in his rookie season at Clemson, but he is no rookie when it comes to the ACC. The N.C. State grad arrived in Tigertown from North Carolina, ironically, his first opponent as a Clemson coach.

Moody handled the offensive chores for the Tar Heels between 1988-95, and he helped them to bowls in each of his last four seasons. His '95 offense joined Florida State's as the only ACC school to average over 240 yards passing and 150 yards rushing per game. He has also coached greats in Ted Brown and Billy Ray Vickers at N.C. State, Dalton Hilliard and Garry James at LSU, and Natone Means and Leon Johnson at North Carolina.

Moody has been coaching at the Division I level for the last 23 years and hopes to translate that experience into a successful offense at Clemson. He has coached in the biggest bowl games, including the Orange Bowl as an assistant at LSU in 1983. He has coached in 10 bowl games overall.

The 1970 N.C. State graduate was an outstanding athlete for the Wolfpack. He was a three-year letterman at N.C. State (1968-70) and led the team in passing in 1969. He was a member of N.C. State's 1968 ACC Championship football team and a starter on the Pack's 1968 College World Series baseball team, the only CWS team in N.C. State history.

At the conclusion of his athletic career he went into coaching and was an a assistant coach under Lou Holtz at N.C. State by the time he was 25.

Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson

Defensive Coordinator/Outside Linebackers

Ellis Johnson is in his first season as the sole defensive coordinator of the Tigers, his second season as outside linebacker coach, but his third year on the Clemson staff. As defensive line coach and co-defensive coordinator last year, he was a significant reason Clemson ranked in the top 10 in the nation in scoring defense and the top 20 in rushing defense.

Johnson is in just his third year at Clemson, but is no stranger to the area. He attended The Citadel, but he grew up a Clemson fan. He has coached in the state at The Citadel as a graduate assistant, at Gaffney High as an assistant coach and at Spartanburg High as an assistant coach and head coach. His most successful stint in coaching so far took place in Alabama. The Crimson Tide experienced a perfect season and defeated Miami (FL) in the Sugar Bowl to win the National Championship in 1992. He is one of two Tiger assistant coaches on this year's staff with a National Championship ring. Les Herrin, a member of Clemson's 1981 staff, is the other.

Johnson was a part of four outstanding defenses at Alabama. During his tenure (1990-93), Alabama ranked in the top five in the nation in total defense and pass defense three times. The 1992 Alabama defense led the nation in total defense and rushing defense and ranked second nationally in passing defense and scoring defense.

Johnson married the former Tonya Taylor in August of 1994.

The Ellis Johnson File

At Clemson: In his first season as the sole defensive coordinator, his second season as outside linebacker coach, and his third season overall as a Clemson assistant.

Richard Bisaccia

Richard Bisaccia

Running Backs/Special Teams/Recruiting Coordinator

Richard Bisaccia enters the 1996 season after coaching the ACC leading rusher in Raymond Priester. He helped to develop Priester into the single-season ground gainer in Clemson history. He also has had a positive effect on fullback Emory Smith, who gained 712 yards last year and combined with Priester to set a Clemson single season rushing record for a starting backfield.

Bisaccia, a Yonkers, NY native, learned how to hold onto the football as a four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College. He has been successful in teaching that aspect of the game, as Clemson had just two lost fumbles in 1994, his first year, tying the all-time NCAA Division I record for fewest lost fumbles in a season. He was a free agent with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL after his college career.

While the 1983 Spring season saw the end of his playing career, the 1983 fall was the beginning of his coaching career. He was named the offensive coordinator at Wayne State in Nebraska his first year out of college and he has been in college coaching ever since.

Unlike many Division I full-time assistant coaches, Bisaccia has not made a lot of moves. He spent five seasons at Wayne State, then six seasons at South Carolina. He has experience coaching on defense and offense, but will concentrate on the running backs position at Clemson.

Bisaccia probably wears more hats than any other Clemson coach. In addition to his time with the running backs, he is also the special teams coach and the recruiting coordinator.

In addition to Bisaccia's recent changes on the gridiron, he has had a family addition within the last two years. In August of '94 his wife Jeanne gave birth to their first son and fourth child, Richard Oakley.

The Richard Bisaccia File

Charlie Harbison

Charlie Harbison

Defensive Backs

Second-year Clemson coach Charlie Harbison has more experience at the professional level than any other current Tiger mentor. Harbison was a starter at strong safety with the New Orleans and Boston Breakers of the USFL in 1983-84 and also signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills in 1982, 1985 and 1986.

Harbison also coached on the pro level with the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the World League of American Football, with the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS and with the Charlotte Rage of the AFL. He has coached wide receivers, linebackers, and defensive backs in his career, but has by far his most experience as a secondary coach.

He enters the '96 campaign after a successful season a year ago. His secondary, led by NFL draftees Brian Dawkins and Leomont Evans, ranked in the top 20 in the nation. The 22 interceptions was the eighth best total by a Clemson team (per game) in history and the best mark since the national championship season. In 1994 he coached the secondary at UTEP. This season, his second at Clemson, he will have the opportunity to enhance the careers of a veteran secondary led by Dexter McCleon, Andre Carter and the Ford twins, Peter and Andy.

In addition to his Division I experience, Harbison also has had significant success at the NAIA level. His Gardner Webb team of 1992 had a 12-2 record and played in the NAIA Championship game.

Reggie Herring

Reggie Herring

Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring is another example of an outstanding former player who has gone on to become an outstanding coach. A teammate of Rick Stockstill at Florida State, Herring left his own mark with the Seminole program as a player.

Herring was captain of the 1980 Orange Bowl team and earned AP All-America honors in 1980. The Seminoles played in the Orange Bowl and ranked in the top 10 in the nation his junior and senior seasons, and he was recently inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame. He was a three-year starter at Florida State and the Seminoles played in three bowls during his four-year career. Florida State also had three double-figure victory seasons during his career.

Like many of Clemson's assistant coaches in 1996, Herring has a diverse experience history. He has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson. He was defensive coordinator at TCU prior to coming to Clemson.

Herring has not made plans over the Christmas holidays for quite some time. He has been a part of college football as a player and coach since 1977. In those 19 seasons he has been to 14 bowl games, 11 as a coach and three as a player.

In his first year at Clemson he coached UPI National Freshman of the Year Anthony Simmons who was also a third-team AP All-American. Herring also coached first-team Academic All-American Andye McCrorey.

John Latina

John Latina

Centers and Guards

John Latina has been an offensive coach for a Division I program every year since 1979. He is in his second season coaching the centers and guards at Clemson, a drastic change from coaching the entire offensive line in 1994. This change has allowed him to spend more time with fewer players.

Latina showed his expertise as a teacher last year as he helped Clemson to the fourth best rushing attack in the nation. This year he hopes to build on the '95 season, but will only have one of his three starters returning this year. But if '94 was any indication of how he brings along a young offensive line, the '96 team will be at its best.

The Virginia Tech graduate, who once played against Clemson as an offensive guard (1978), has worked at Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Temple and Kansas State. He has already coached in a bowl game with four different schools.

During his career he has worked with Dan Marino, who led the Panthers to a 9-3 ledger and the Cotton Bowl in 1982. Paul Palmer, one of the top rushers in NCAA history with Temple, was also a member of Latina's offense in the 1980s.

Over the five years he was with the program, Kansas State's team in general and offense in particular, showed as much improvement as any in the country. In Latina's second season at Kansas State as offensive line coach and running game coordinator, the Wildcats set a school record for total offense with 4,231 yards. Kansas State advanced to a bowl game in 1992, just the second bowl appearance in school history.

The John Latina File

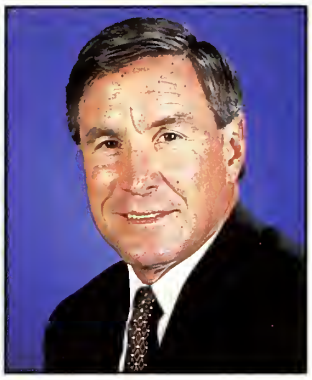
College Playing Experience: Four-year letter winner at Virginia Tech as an offensive guard (1975-78).

Personal Data: Born September 18, 1957...he and his wife Michele have two sons John Jr. (12) and Michael (9).



Mac McWhorter

Mac McWhorter

Offensive Tackles/Tight Ends

Mac McWhorter is in his rookie season at Clemson. He arrives from Georgia, where he spent the last five years as an offensive line coach. The Georgia native is coming off a successful stint in Athens, where he worked with All-American Eric Zeier from 1991-94, and a "tough-nose" running game in '95. He helped Georgia to set numerous team records in many different categories in the last five years. The Dogs led the SEC in rushing and passing during his career with the Bulldogs.

Coach McWhorter played football at Georgia in the early '70s as an offensive lineman; so he is no stranger to the surroundings of Death Valley. He has played and coached in many big bowl games, including the Gator, Peach, Hall of Fame, Citrus, and Sun Bowls.

McWhorter was an AP All-Southeastern Conference selection as a guard in 1973. He was also an honorable mention All-American and was named captain of the Bulldogs. Georgia played in two bowl games during his career.

McWhorter has been a college coach each of the last 16 years and 12 of those years he worked with either Georgia or Georgia Tech. He also coached two years at ACC rival Duke (1990-91). Altogether, McWhorter has coached in six bowl games.

The Mac McWhorter File

Rick Stockstill

Rick Stockstill

Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill has been around successful programs and record setting offenses his entire coaching career. In his first year as quarterback coach at Clemson (1989), the Tigers set a school record for completion percentage (60%). The Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for the 1991 season, and Clemson gained the second most yards in school history in the process.

Last year Clemson had its third most productive offense in history scoring over 300 points and gaining over 4500 yards of total offense.

Stockstill also tutored productive offenses at Central Florida and Bethune-Cookman in his early years as a football coach. As a player, he was the starting quarterback for Florida State. He guided the Seminoles to a pair of Orange Bowl appearances, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

It is no surprise that Stockstill has moved up the coaching ladder so swiftly because he is the product of an athletic family. His father was head coach at Fernandina Beach High School in Florida for many years. His brother, Jeff, was a starting wide receiver for the Tigers in 1982, and a reserve on the National Championship team of 1981.

Stockstill is in his eighth year with the Clemson program and the Tigers have been to bowl games in five of the previous seven seasons at Clemson. He joins Les Herrin and Whitey Jordan as the only assistant coaches in Clemson history to serve under three different head coaches.

Ring of Honor

The Clemson Ring of Honor is in its third year of existence in Clemson Memorial Stadium. On September 3, 1994, during ceremonies prior to the Clemson vs. Furman football game, Frank Howard, Steve Fuller and Banks McFadden were inducted into the Clemson Ring of Honor. On September 2, 1995, Jeff Davis was added to the Clemson Ring of Honor.

The Ring of Honor is the highest honor a Clemson football player can receive. A recipient must first be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, earn at least an undergraduate degree, and make a significant contribution to the heritage of Clemson athletics. Honorees will have their jersey retired.

Howard was Clemson's head coach between 1940-69 and he guided Clemson to eight conference championships, six bowl games and six Top 25 seasons. He was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1989 and is the second winningest coach in ACC history. He had 165 wins when he retired.

McFadden was named the Nation's most versatile athlete in 1939. He was an All-American in football and basketball, the only Clemson athlete in history to do that. McFadden led Clemson to its first bowl bid ever, a 6-3 win over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl. He was the number-three pick of the 1940 NFL draft, the highest draft selection in Clemson history.

Fuller is the only football player in Clemson history to be chosen an All-American on the field and in the classroom. Fuller was a first-team Academic All-American in 1977 and 1978 and was a third-team AP All-American in 1978. Fuller, who was ACC MVP on two occasions, is still Clemson's all-time leader in total offense. He was an NCAA Top Five Award winner in 1979, the only Clemson athlete to win the award.

Davis, captain of Clemson's 1981 National Championship team was a first-team All-American that year when he led the Tigers in tackles with 175, the highest total in Clemson history. Davis was also named the MVP of the ACC and was the Defensive MVP of the Orange Bowl victory over Nebraska, the game that clinched the national championship for the Tigers.

RING OF HONOR GUIDELINES

Purpose: The charge of the Ring of Honor committee is to bestow the highest athletic award presented by the Clemson Athletic Department on deserving candidates. The committee will examine the careers of candidates in all Clemson sports.

Nominations: Nominations are made by any member of IPTAY, a member of the faculty or a relative of a worthy nominee, and are accepted up to 30 days prior to the committee meeting. The committee will meet once every two years in the month of April to vote on the nominations.

Nominations will be made in the form of a letter with a complete list of accomplishments and submitted to the chair of the committee, currently Clemson Sports Information Director Tim Bourret, who will retain an active file of nominations. Letters of support may also be submitted. All nominations will remain on file for a period of three voting committee meetings (five years). The Chair of the Committee will screen all nominations to make sure they meet eligibility requirements.

Eligibility: This committee will recognize individuals who have demonstrated consistent and unique national excellence in their sport during their Clemson career. Their accomplishments must be significant on an individual and team basis. Their statistical accomplishments must be noteworthy, but they should also have an outstanding record in terms of leadership. In general, they must have made a noteworthy contribution to the history of the Clemson Athletic Program.

Athletic accomplishments after their Clemson career are not a primary consideration in the nomination, but they must retain an unblemished record of citizenship after they leave Clemson.

A candidate must be a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame and must hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited four-year University or college.

Financial contributions to Clemson University will not be a consideration when evaluating the candidates.

For a coach to be nominated he or she must be retired from coaching that sport at the college level.

Selection Process: Each member of the 11-person selection committee will cast one vote per sport. An honoree must obtain at least seven votes to be selected. There will be just one ballot. The committee does not have to select any honorees at its meeting. There shall be no more than one honoree in a sport for every two years.

Conferring: In the sport of football, the honoree will have his name, number, years participated and helmet enshrined in the Ring of Honor at Clemson Memorial Stadium. In the sport of basketball, the honoree's jersey will be hung from the rafters of Littlejohn Coliseum. In the sport of baseball a jersey replica will be hung from the fence of Tiger Field. Other sports will establish appropriate sites at the home facility.

When a student-athlete is selected the person's jersey is honored, but the jersey number may be worn in the future. However, it is encouraged that the number be issued only on special occasions. These occasions are determined by the head coach and athletic director. The ceremony honoring the recipient will be determined from a meeting between the honoree, the athletic director, the committee chair and the head coach of the sport involved.

ACC Football

*Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 56 NCAA and AIAW championships, including 27 in men's competition and 29 in women's. In addition, 96 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of the NCAA champion.

*The ACC is one of only two conferences to capture three or more national football titles since 1980. Clemson laid claim to the league's second title in 1981, Georgia Tech followed suit in 1990 while Florida State pocketed national title number four in 1994.

*The nine schools that take to the field this fall under the ACC banner have produced 310 first or second team gridiron All-Americans and 48 first-team academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,336 players selected in the annual professional football draft, including 82 first-round draft selections.

*If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, the ACC over the years has proved itself to be among the elite in Division I-A football. After posting a 3-1 bowl mark in 1995, the ACC moved past the Pacific-10 as the conference with the best all-time bowl winning percentage. The league's teams are a combined 76-63-5 (.545) in post-season play.

The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 10th-straight year as 1,185 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

*The 1995-96 academic year concluded with the league pocketing two more national team titles and seven individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 23 national team titles the last six years.

*In addition, seven ACC schools - North Carolina (6), Virgina (21), Florida State (23), Clemson (27), N.C. State (32), Maryland (34) and Duke (39) were ranked in the Top 40 of the Sears Directors' Cup, an all-sports award honoring the Division I school with the best performance by women's and men's athletic teams during the 1995-96 academic year.

*The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 13 of the 23 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1995-96 season include 83 teams competing at the NCAA Championships, four bowl teams and 20 Top 10 showings.

*Six ACC teams, in six different sports, representing three of the nine member institutions, earned a No. 1 ranking during the course of the past academic year.

*The ACC set a single season attendance mark in 1995 averaging an all-time high 46,588 fans per game. The conference drew more than 2.2 million fans for a fifth straight year. Over 51 home dates, ACC schools attracted 2,376,003, the third highest total in league history and a five percent increase over 1994. ACC teams played to 89 percent of their stadiums' capacity.

*For the second year in a row, five ACC players were among 24 players selected to the Hitachi/CFA Scholar Athlete team. Florida State's Todd Rebol, Clemson's Andye McCrorey, N.C. State's Jonathan Risser, North Carolina's Russell Babb and Wake Forest's Rusty LaRue were selected.

*ACC football teams made 24 appearances on television during the 1995 season. League teams made 11 appearances on ABC, nine on ESPN, and one each on CBS, NBC, TBS, and Prime.

Play of the Era
One of the most eye-opening victories of the 1980s was Clemson's 13-6 victory over Oklahoma in the 1989 Citrus Bowl. No ACC team had ever beaten the Sooners. Clemson won the defensive struggle when Jesse Hatcher forced Jamelle Holieway out of the pocket and made a diving pass attempt. Dexter Davis still had to knock the pass away from an Oklahoma receiver as the final horn sounded.

August 26, 1982—After winning the National Championship the previous year, Clemson was ranked 11th in the preseason poll for the 1982 season by Associated Press.

September 6, 1982—Clemson and Georgia met in Athens on a Monday night in a matchup of the last two National Champions. The game was nationally televised by ABC. Georgia won the defensive struggle 13-7. Georgia's only touchdown came on a blocked punt. Clemson held Herschel Walker to 11 rushes for 20 yards, his career low rushing effort.

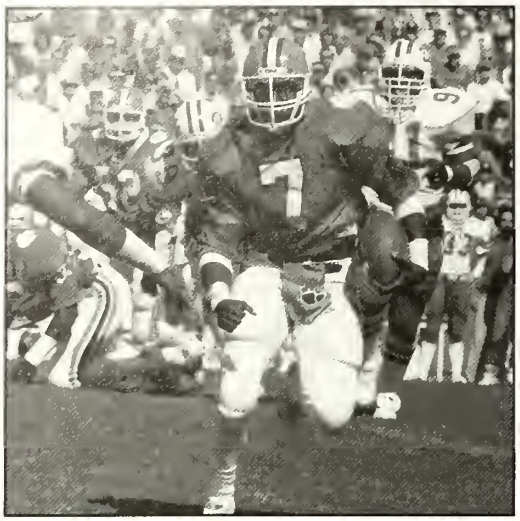
September 11, 1982—Five days after playing 1982 Heisman Trophy winner Herschel Walker, the Tigers faced 1984 Heisman Award winner Doug Flutie. Clemson and Boston College battled to a 17-17 tie. Clemson ran 89 plays in the game to just 64 for Boston College, but still could not come up with the victory.

September 25, 1982—Clemson started a nine-game winning streak with a 21-10 victory over Western Carolina. Johnny Rembert became the first linebacker in Clemson history to have two interceptions in one game. Tim Childers also provided a spark with an 82-yard fumble return, the longest non-scoring return in Clemson history.

October 9, 1982—In a game nationally televised by WTBS Television, Clemson defeated Virginia 48-0 in Charlottesville. Clemson had three backs, Chuck McSwain, Jeff McCall and Cliff Austin gain over 100 yards rushing in the game. McSwain led the way with an 82-yard run in the first half.

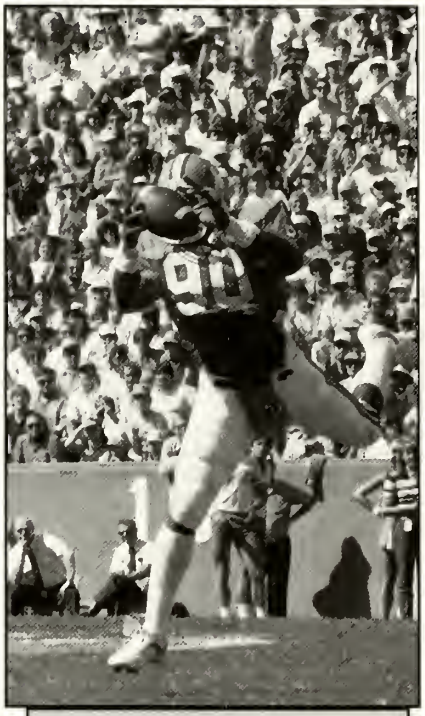
October 16, 1982—Cliff Austin broke the Clemson record for most rushing yards in a game with 260 in a rout of Duke. Austin broke the record that had stood since 1952 when Don King had 234 yards rushing at Fordham. King was at the game in which Austin broke the mark and was sitting in front of the Clemson radio network booth at the time. He was interviewed about the breaking of his record within seconds of Austin's record breaking carry.

November 6, 1982—Clemson defeated North Carolina 16-13 in a battle of top 20 teams. It was a key victory in Clemson's drive to the ACC title. Bob Paulling provided a big lift with three field goals, all of at least 40 yards (46,43, 46), the only time in Clemson history a Tiger kicker has had three 40+ field goals in the same game.



Cliff Austin

Clemson had one of the top ground attacks in the 1980s and one of the reasons was the play of Cliff Austin. As a senior, in 1982, he rushed for over 1000 yards, including a record 260 yards against Duke, breaking a 30-year-old record. Austin had the single season rushing yards/game record until Raymond Priester broke it last year.



Facing Heisman Competition

Clemson played against four of the five Heisman Trophy winners between 1980-84. The biggest challenge was presented by Boston College's Doug Flutie, who led BC to a tie at Clemson in 1982 and a victory over the Tigers in Boston in 1983. Those were two of only four blemishes on Clemson's record between 1981-83.

Johnny Rembert

Johnny Rembert holds a significant place in Clemson history because he was a ground breaker. He was the first junior college transfer in any sport to earn All-America honors with the Tigers (in 1982). He was exceptional in pass coverage and still holds the single season record for interceptions by a linebacker with six in 1982.

Tiger Timeline

January 1, 1983—Terry Kinard was named National Defensive Player of the Year by CBS Sports. He was presented the award during halftime of the Cotton Bowl by CBS announcer Lindsey Nelson. Kinard had led Clemson to a 9-1-1 record, led the team in tackles and interceptions.

January 2, 1983—Clemson was ranked eighth in the final AP poll. With a 9-1-1 record, Clemson won its last nine games of the season and had 656 poll points in the process.

April 26, 1983—A record 10 Clemson players were chosen in the NFL draft. The group was led by Terry Kinard, who was the #10 pick of the entire draft by the New York Giants. Six of the 10 players (Kinard, Cliff Austin, Johnny Rembert, Chuck McSwain, Jeff McCall and Andy Headen) made it to the NFL. In fact, Kinard, McCall and Headen went on to win Super Bowl Championship rings.

September 3, 1983—The north upper deck was used for the first time in a victory over Western Carolina, bringing the capacity to over 80,000. The upper deck was constructed at a cost of $13.5 million or a cost of $866 a seat. The original stadium was built in 1942 at a cost of $125,000, or $6.25 a seat.

October 8, 1983—Mike Eppley had the finest all-around passing day by a Tiger in the 1980s when he connected on 12-15 passes for 199 yards and two scores in a 42-21 win over Virginia. He had a 235.44 rating for the game. It remains a single game completion percentage record for a Tiger quarterback, given a minimum of 15 attempts.

October 15, 1983—Clemson defeated Duke, 38-31 in the second most offensive game in Clemson history for two teams combined. The two clubs gained 1022 yards between them, 514 by Clemson and 508 by Duke. The Tigers overcame 18 penalties in winning the game. Clemson had 363 yards on the ground, thanks to 150 by Kevin Mack and 112

Clemson had just two losses and two ties in three years between 1981-83. The Tigers ranked first, eighth and 11th in those three years respectively, one of just three teams nationally to rank in the top dozen in the country each of those years. The Tigers won 19 straight games against ACC teams during the stretch and defeated six top 20 clubs. Among the highlights was a 52-27 victory over Maryland. That day Clemson fans released 363,729 balloons as the Tigers ran down the hill, a feat cited in the Guinness Book of World Records.

November 12, 1983—3,000 Clemson students arrived at Death Valley at 7:00 a.m. to blow up 363,729 balloons. The 80,000 fans released the balloons as the team ran down the hill. The event set a world record and was documented in the Guinness Book of World Records. On the field, Mike Eppley was outstanding with three touchdown passes, and Kevin Mack rushed for 186 yards in his final game in Death Valley. He scored his final touchdown with just one shoe on, as he had lost it during his 56-yard run for a score. Clemson downed the Top 20 Maryland team and Boomer Esiason, 52-27, to complete a third straight perfect season against ACC teams.

November 19, 1983—Clemson closed the 1983 season with a 22-13 win over South Carolina in Columbia. The game closes a 30-2-2 record for the Tigers over the last three years, the top record in college football.

August 25, 1984—Clemson was ranked fourth in the preseason AP poll, its highest preseason ranking in history.

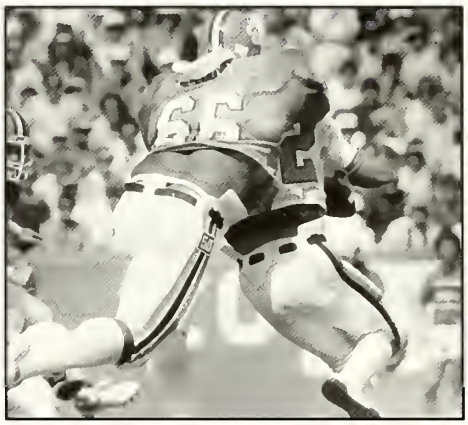
September 8, 1984—Clemson defeated Virginia in Charlottesville 55-0. Virginia ended the year 8-4 and went to a bowl game. It is the largest margin of victory in Clemson history over a team that went to a bowl game. Mike Eppley led the way, hitting 8-14 passes for 172 yards and a pair of scores.The Tigers advanced to number-two in the nation with the victory.

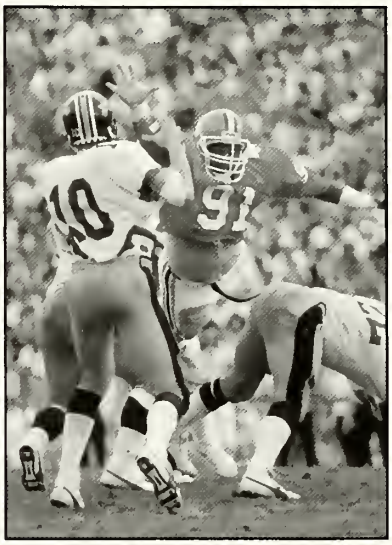
September 10, 1984—Clemson moved to number-two in the nation in the AP poll after the victory over Virginia. It was the highest ranking for the Clemson team since winning the 1981 National Championship. No Clemson team has been ranked as high since.

September 22, 1984—Georgia defeated Clemson in Athens, 26-23 on a 60-yard field goal by Kevin Butler with 11 seconds left. Clemson, who had a 20-6 lead at halftime, ran the ensuing kickoff back to Georgia territory and a personal foul was thrown against the Bulldogs after the tackle. But, after a long debate, officials ruled the game had ended when the foul was committed and Donald Igwebuike, who led the nation in field goal percentage in 1984 (17-18) was denied an opportunity to tie the game from 42 yards away.

The Perry Brothers

Clemson had a formidable front line in 1984. That was the year both Perry Brothers started in the Clemson defensive line. William, a senior, had 27 tackles for loss to lead the country, and his brother Michael Dean was second with 15. William was named All-American that year and set ACC records for career sacks and tackles for loss, records Michael Dean broke in 1987. Michael Dean became an All-American and Outland Trophy finalist in 1987.





Tiger Timeline

October 20, 1984—Two-thousand William Perry Growth Posters went on sale at Memorial Stadium prior to the Clemson vs. Duke Homecoming game. The posters, which sold for $5 apiece and were lifesize replicas of the 330-pound Clemson linemen, were sold in one day. The poster was used in promoting Perry for the Outland and Lombardi Awards. Perry was a finalist for both, but did not win either. In the game, Perry became the ACC's career leader in sacks and helped the Tigers to a 54-21 victory.

November 10, 1984—Clemson defeated Virginia Tech 17-10 in the greatest matchup of defensive linemen in Death Valley history. Clemson featured All-American William Perry and Virginia Tech featured Outland Trophy winner and future All-Pro Bruce Smith. Clemson also had freshman Michael Dean Perry, who went on to earn five Pro Bowl selections. Smith had four tackles for loss for Virginia Tech and William Perry had three tackles for loss for the Tigers.

April 30, 1985—The Chicago Bears took William Perry in the first round of the NFL draft with the 22nd selection.

September 14, 1985—David Treadwell showed a forshadowing of things to come with a 36-yard field goal on the last play of the game to give Clemson a 20-17 victory at Virginia Tech in the season opener. Perry Williams had a Clemson record five pass deflections in this game.

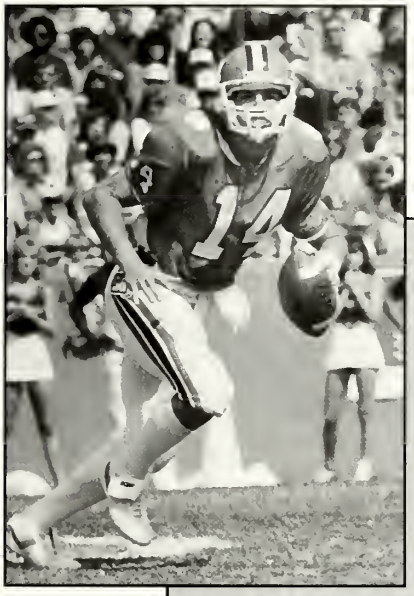
September 21, 1985—Clemson and Georgia met in the first nationally televised (CBS) football game from Clemson. The Bulldogs won the game 20-13 thanks to a fourth-quarter fumble recovery by offensive lineman Peter Anderson. No offensive lineman has scored a touchdown in a Clemson game since.

October 12, 1985—After a 1-3 start, Head Coach Danny Ford made two significant lineup changes prior to the Virginia game. He inserted Rodney Williams (QB) and John Phillips (OG) into the starting lineup and the Tigers went on to defeat an undefeated Virginia team, 27-24. Williams went on to start all but one of the next 40 games and led the Tigers to 32 victories. Phillips became a two-time All-American. Kenny Flowers scored on a 12-yard run in the fourth quarter to provide the winning touchdown.

October 26, 1985—Clemson defeated N.C.

Winning Signal Callers

One of the most significant reasons Clemson had the fifth best record in college football in the 1980s was the consistent play of quarterbacks Mike Eppley, Rodney Williams and Chris Morocco. Morocco served an apprenticeship to Williams for three years, then got to show his ability in 1989, leading Clemson to a 10-2 record by completing nearly 60 percent of his passes.



Mike Eppley

Mike Eppley was an Academic All-American off the field and All-ACC player on the field between 1982-84. He is still Clemson's career leader in touchdown passes with 28 and in 1983 had the most efficient passing season in Clemson history. His quarterback rating of 146 ranked third in the nation, the highest ranking ever for a Clemson quarterback.

Rodney Williams

All Rodney Williams did was win . . . 32 times between 1985-88. That is among the highest victory totals for a starting quarterback in NCAA history. Williams is still Clemson's career leader in passing yardage with 4647 and in completions with 333. He was a two-time Bowl Game MVP, the only Tiger to do that, and quarterbacked the Tigers to three ACC championships (1986-88).

Tiger Timeline

State 35-34 in Raleigh in the highest scoring one-point game in Clemson history. Ironically, there was no scoring by either team in the fourth period.

November 23, 1985—Clemson defeated South Carolina in Columbia 24-17, and accepted a bid to the Independence Bowl. Kenny Flowers led the way with 26 rushes for 136 yards.

December 19, 1985—Clemson made its first appearance in a bowl in four years, losing to Minnesota, 20-13. Kenny Flowers was a bright spot for the Tigers with 148 yards rushing, the high total of his career and his fifth straight 100-yard performance to close the season. He is the only Clemson back to have five straight 100-yard rushing performances.

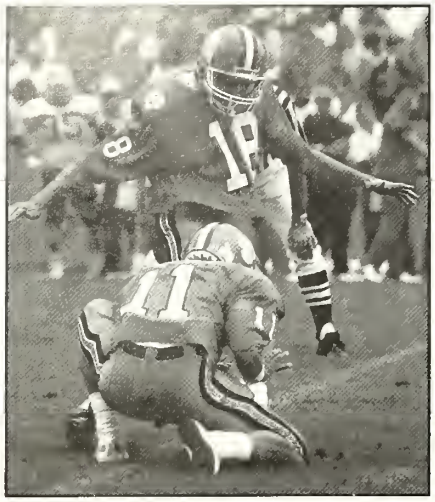
September 20, 1986—Clemson defeated Georgia, 31-28, as David Treadwell kicked a 46-yard field goal with no time left on the clock. Athens, GA native Norman Haynes led Clemson in tackles with 14, while Terrance Flagler led the offense with nearly 160 all-purpose running yards.

November 1, 1986—Terrance Flagler scored four touchdowns, two receiving and two rushing and gained 274 all-purpose running yards in Clemson's 28-20 win at Wake Forest. He had an 88-yard run in the contest, the longest of his career and the third longest in Clemson history. The all-purpose running total is still a Clemson record for an individual. Rodney Williams, playing on his birthday, was outstanding, hitting 13-18 passes, the highest completion percentage game of his career.

November 15, 1986—Clemson tied Maryland 17-17 to win the ACC championship, as Treadwell kicked a 20-yard field goal with two seconds left. Both Clemson coach Danny Ford and Maryland coach Bobby Ross, coached the game from the press box due to suspensions imposed by the ACC.

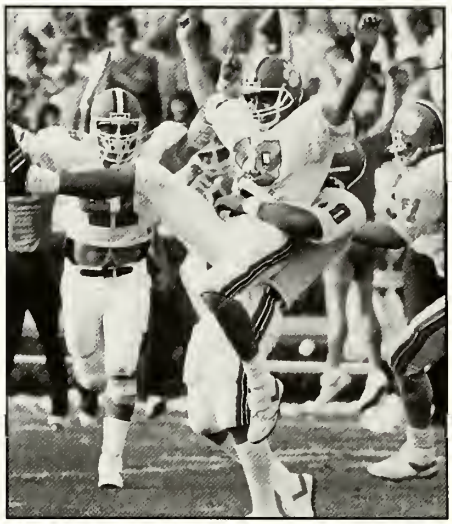
December 27, 1986—Clemson won the Gator Bowl championship with a 27-21 decision over Stanford. Clemson scored all 27 points in the first half, then held on as Brad Muster led a furious Stanford comeback. Rodney Williams was the MVP of the game for the Tigers.

January 3, 1987—Clemson was ranked 17th in the nation in the final AP poll, its first final Top 20 ranking since 1983.



Thrilling Wins over the Dawgs

Two victories that will always bring smiles to Clemson fans took place in consecutive seasons in much the same manner. Georgia had long been a thorn in the Tiger seasons, but in 1986 and 1987 David Treadwell booted last second field goals to exorcise the Dawg Demons. In 1986 his 46-yard field goal on the last play of the game gave the Tigers a 31-28 victory, and a year later in Clemson his 21-yarder with two seconds left resulted in a 21-20 Tiger win.



ACC Champs 1986-88

Clemson won three straight ACC titles between 1986-88. The streak started with an ACC clinching tie at Maryland in 1986. Tight end Jim Riggs made a stretching reception on a fourth-down play on the tying drive that ended in a 21-yard Treadwell field goal with 10 seconds left.

Flowers Sets Rushing Record

Kenny Flowers broke Buddy Gore's 18-year old career rushing record against Duke in 1986. Flowers ended his career with over 2900 career yards, still a record (but one that Raymond Priester is gaining on).

Tiger Timeline

September 12, 1987—Wesley McFadden raced 226 yards, including 89 on one run, in Clemson's 22-10 victory at Virginia Tech. Michael Dean Perry had the only interception of his career in this game. Clemson had 16 tackles for loss for a record 89 negative yards in the contest.

September 19, 1987—David Treadwell booted a 21-yard field goal with two seconds left to beat Georgia on national TV, 21-20. The winning field goal had been set up by a safety that had brought Clemson within 20-18. James Lott, Gene Beasley and Vince Taylor combined to stop Bulldog quarterback James Jackson on a sweep from the Bulldog one-yard line.

September 26, 1987—Clemson had not returned a punt or kickoff for a touchdown in 17 years, then had one of each in a 33-12 win over Georgia Tech. Donnell Woolford scored on a 78-yard punt return and Joe Henderson on a 95-yard kickoff return. Clemson had gone 999 punt and kickoff returns without a touchdown prior to Joe Henderson's score. Clemson had 227 punt return yards in the game, an all-time Tiger record. Gary Cooper led the receivers with four catches for 107 yards.

October 24, 1987—Clemson was upset by N.C. State 30-28 in one of the most bizzare games in the history of Death Valley. The Pack took a 30-0 lead over the seventh ranked Tigers at halftime, but Clemson came back with 28 straight points, then got the ball back with two minutes left, but could not set up David Treadwell for a winning field goal. Rodney Williams attempted a record 53 passes, including a then national record 46 passes in the second half. He threw for 271 yards in the game, fourth highest total in Clemson history and most by a Clemson quarterback in the 1980s. The Clemson defense set a school record with 19 tackles for loss, including a record five by Michael Dean Perry.

November 7, 1987—David Treadwell booted a 30-yard field goal with 32 seconds left to give Clemson a 13-10 victory at North Carolina, a key victory in Clemson's drive to a second straight ACC Championship. It was also a key boot in Treadwell's drive for an All-America season. It marked the sixth time in his career that Treadwell had kicked a fourth period field goal inside the last three minutes that gave Clemson a tie or victory.

January 1, 1988—Clemson gained 499

Clemson 34, Florida State 23

Clemson dominated Florida State in 1989 in a nationally televised game on ESPN. In fact, no team outside the state of Florida has won in Tallahassee since. Terry Allen scored three touchdowns, including a 73-yard sprint in the final minute of the first half. Wayne Simmons had a 73-yard interception return for a score to key the defense against a Seminole team that would not lose the rest of the season and was ranked third in the final poll.

Dominating the Gamecocks

Clemson posted a 7-2-1 record against South Carolina in the 1980s, including five wins by at least three touchdowns. The Tigers won in Columbia in 1989 by a 45-0 score, the largest margin of victory in the series since 1900.

John Phillips

Clemson had outstanding, hard-working run blockers in the 1980s and John Phillips stood at the top of the list. He was a two-time All-American who had over 100 knockdown blocks in 1986 and 1987. His move to starting offensive guard in the fifth game of 1985 was a significant reason Clemson's offense made a resurgence, leading to six straight bowl appearances.

Tiger Timeline

yards total offense in handing Penn State its worst Bowl game defeat, 35-10, in the Florida Citrus Bowl. Rodney Williams was named the player of the game as he threw for 214 yards. Terry Allen rushed for 105 and Keith Jennings caught seven passes for 110, giving Clemson a 200-yard passer, 100-yard rusher and 100-yard receiver in the same game for the first time since 1969. Clemson was ranked 10th in the final UPI poll after the victory.

September 17, 1988—Florida State defeated Clemson 24-21 in the "Puntrooskie Game" at Death Valley. It was the first battle of top 10 teams in the history of Death Valley. Clemson had Florida State deep in its own territory late in the fourth quarter with the score tied at 21 when Florida State coach Bobby Bowden ran an intricate fake punt play that resulted in Leroy Butler streaking 78 yards to the Clemson three. FSU booted a field goal to win the game two plays later.

October 8, 1988—Clemson won its 28th straight game against Virginia, a 10-7 victory in Charlottesville. Rodney Williams connected with Chip Davis on a 14-yard pass with 1:52 left to give Clemson the victory. Davis was uncovered on the play and Williams recognized this just before the snap.

November 12, 1988—Clemson clinched an ACC record-tying third straight ACC title with a 49-25 win at Maryland. Clemson scored 28 points in the fourth period on just nine offensive plays. Freshman Levon Kirkland was the star of the game with a career high 13 tackles, three tackles for loss and an interception.

November 19, 1988—Clemson gained revenge for a loss at South Carolina in 1987 with a 29-10 victory over the Gamecocks at Clemson. Rodney Williams was masterful in running the Clemson offensive in his final home game. Williams would end his career with 32 wins as the starting quarterback, still a record for a Tiger quarterback.

January 2, 1989—Clemson became the first ACC team to defeat Oklahoma in a 13-6 Florida Citrus Bowl victory. Clemson held the Oklahoma offense without a touchdown for just the second time in the decade of the eighties. Clemson closed the season with a #9 ranking and became the only school in the nation to win a conference title, a bowl game and rank in the final Top 20 for three straight years. Terry Allen, with 100 all-purpose running yards, was the offensive MVP.

April 23, 1989—Donnell Woolford was taken by the Chicago Bears with the 11th pick of the 1989 draft. Woolford was the seventh first round pick in the decade of the 1980s from Clemson.

September 9, 1989—Clemson earned a landmark victory at Florida State, 34-23. The Tigers jumped out to a 21-0 lead behind a 73-yard interception return by Wayne Simmons and a 73-yard touchdown run by Terry Allen. The victory moved Clemson to number-seven in the AP poll and it was the last loss of the season for Florida State, who eventually ended the season ranked third in the nation. Florida State has not lost at home to a non-Florida school since that contest. Freshman Chester McGlockton had a then record five quarterback pressures in the game, a foreshadowing of things to come for the current All-Pro with the Oakland Raiders.

October 14, 1989—Clemson dropped out of the AP poll after a 30-14 homecoming loss to Georgia Tech. It is the first time in 41 polls that Clemson was not ranked in the top 20.

November 18, 1989—Clemson slaughtered South Carolina 45-0, the largest margin of victory for Clemson in the series in 89 years. Clemson outgained the Gamecocks 466-155, and picked up 355 yards rushing. Clemson's fifth-ranked defense forced five turnovers. Terry Allen rushed for 89 yards in the first half, then suffered a knee injury just before half-time and never carried the ball for the Tigers again.

December 30, 1989—The Tigers defeated West Virginia 27-7 in the Gator Bowl. It was Clemson's fourth straight bowl victory and the fourth straight year Clemson concluded the season ranked in the national top 20. The Tigers held West Virginia to just 119 yards passing and forced Heisman Trophy runner up Major Harris into three fumbles. Chester McGlockton sacked Harris in the endzone and recovered the ball for a touchdown. The win gave Clemson 38 wins in a four-year period, an all-time ACC record. Levon Kirkland, a sophomore outside linebacker, was named MVP of the game for the Tigers.

January 3, 1990—With the victory in the Gator Bowl, Clemson moved up to number-12 in the final AP poll, quite a comeback for the Tigers, who had not been ranked in the top 20 on Halloween.

Memorial Stadium

In 1991, two very special anniversaries in the Clemson football tradition were observed. Not only did the 1991 season mark the 10th anniversary of Clemson's National Championship season, but it also marked the 50th birthday of the place where the Tigers won six games that season: Memorial Stadium.

In the first 54 years of Memorial Stadium, Clemson has a record of 187-70-7, including a 29-8-1 ledger over the last six seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 72.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need'.

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow. This year Clemson celebrates its 55th year in this outstanding facility.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

Memorial Stadium is one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the nation with capacity listed at 81,474.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the first day of the first game in the stadium,"the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone,"Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 80,000 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C.teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

On November 16, 1974 the playing surface was named Frank Howard Field for the legendary coach because of his long service and dedication to the University.

Luckily, the stadium wasn't built behind the Y.

He's Never Taken An Extra Point For Granted.

If the game is close, maybe you'll slide to the edge of your seat as the kicker sets up for the extra point. Maybe.

But perhaps you don't realize just how important every point is to someone like Matthew.

Matthew knows everything there is to know about child abuse. He's seen it and he's felt it. He is an expert at hiding in the closet, under the bed and beneath the house. But for the first time in his life, Matthew is learning what it's like to be loved.

For every point Clemson scores this season, First Union will donate $25 to Helping Hands of Clemson, a non-profit organization of professionals and volunteers dedicated to helping and caring for a lot of children just like Matthew.

So, this year when you're cheering for the Tigers, cheer a little louder for Matthew. Everyone at First Union will be.

VICKERY HALL

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 18 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the only facility in the country built solely for the all-around education of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000 square -foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes.

The mission of the Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is to monitor, guide, and encourage student-athletes to fulfill their long term goal, and to achieve their academic and career potential.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about institutional commitment—giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Vickery Hall focuses on five primary areas to meet the student-athlete's needs.

Academic Support

Clemson's Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs have provided one of the best academic support and advising programs in the nation.

The Academic Counselor performs a variety of duties to track academic progress. Their duties include providing assistance in registration and priority scheduling, contacting faculty, personally checking classes, recording information, counseling sessions with student-athletes, providing diagnostic testing, and directing career aspirations.

The academic support goals are to improve academic performance, assist student-athletes to become goal oriented, and promote all student-athletes to maintain good scholarship, and promote independence in the academic arena.

Tutoring

One of the most prestigious programs that has received recognition essential to the growth of Vickery Hall is the tutorial program.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program has been granted a Level 1 certification from the College of Reading and Learning Association, International Tutor Certification Program. Of the one hundred programs certified by CRLA, the Clemson Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs is one of two student-athlete programs in the country to achieve this distinction.

Having tutor certification will enable student-athletes to be provided the highest quality of academic assistance possible. Approximately 80 tutors are hired to provide academic support in the many subject areas offered.

Computing Facilities

The Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs has recognized the need for students to have access to high-quality computing equipment and has made a commitment to provide the student-athletes at Clemson with the largest computer lab in the country. Located on the first floor of Vickery Hall is the Department of Student-Athlete Enrichment Programs' Microcomputer Laboratory. The lab is open seven days a week, for 16 hours on Monday through Thursday, and limited time on Saturday and Sunday. During exam periods the lab hours are extended.

The lab staff consists of graduate students, many of whom are pursuing advanced degrees in computer science. Lab staff members are available for tutoring of any Computer Science course, as well as the many management, engineering and business courses that deal with personal computers. Student-athletes may also arrange tutoring sessions outside normal lab hours any time during the school year.

The Student-Athlete Enrichment Program is committed to providing state-of-the-art computing facilities. Seventeen new computers have recently been purchased and an additional purchase of 15 new computers is slated for the next academic year. A new computer lab has been constructed and make a total of 40 computers available for student-athletes.

All computers feature comprehensive software packages that enable student-athletes to complete assignments successfully. All computers are fully connected to the internet allowing for access of computers throughout the world for research and communication.

Career Assistance Program

The Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program is one of the most important programs provided by the staff of Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athletes.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Long Term Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, will be coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and will focus on resume writing and interview techniques.

Personal Growth Program

Another aspect of Clemson University's commitment to help student-athletes reach their potential in all areas of their life——academically, athletically, and socially, is the personal growth program. This particular area of student development is designed to enhance and support the lives of student-athletes during their enrollment in college as well as in their life experiences after graduation.

The Vickery Hall Staff realizes that student-athletes have more obligations than a regular college student. The personal growth program seeks to eliminate some of the stresses of adjustment to the higher level of academics and athletics. It is the group's special task to assist the student-athlete by creating a finely tuned balance of all areas to ensure success in obtaining a Clemson University degree, by supporting successful athletic practice and competition, enhancing personal growth, and helping with the transition to life after college.

The purpose of the Personal Growth and Development Program is to assist the student-athlete in making a successful transition into his/her university and athletic life. These programs will provide the student-athlete the opportunity to examine and explore issues and topics pertaining to his/her values, personal health and wellness, behavior, and goals. The specific topics will encompass both general transition issues and specific athletic issues as well.

Vickery Hall is a 27,000 square foot facility built specifically for student-athlete enrichment. The Dick Hendley computer room is a major aspect of that building.

Chris Gardocki

by James Brunson

Studies have said that the average person entering the working world today can expect to go through six job changes. Thus, a diverse background is a good thing to have if you are about to enter the job market. At least this is one of the reasons I gave to my parents when changing my major after three semesters here.

Apparently, nobody gave this statistic to Chris Gardocki as he prepared to enter the real world. He has known what he wanted to do ever since he was in high school and he has very consistently realized his dream. With the exception of moving from Chicago to Indianapolis, Gardocki is destined to perform the same job for many years.

At Redan high school, located in Stone Mountain, GA, Gardocki started at quarterback, punter, placekicker, kickoff man, and even logged some occasional time in the defensive backfield.

As a quarterback his senior year, Chris went 44-96 for 795 yards and was named the Atlanta Touchdown Club's Offensive Back-of-the-Year. The kicking game was where he excelled the most, however. Aside from hitting a Georgia state record 59-yard field goal, Gardocki also put 47 of 51 kickoffs into the endzone, made 13 of 22 field goals, connected on all 34 PATs, and averaged 45.8 yards punting. For his performance as a kicker, Gardocki was named to the USA Today and Parade All-American teams.

When the time came for Chris to decide where to further his education, he narrowed his choices to Georgia, Florida, and Clemson, and also narrowed the number of positions that he would play. The left-footer would be sticking to kicking while in college. All of the schools were recruiting him as a punter, but Clemson also offered him the chance to kick.

"Tommy West was the first coach to recruit me from Clemson, and I could tell that he was being honest with me about everything" said Chris, "and once I went to a game at Clemson, I was certain that I wanted to go there."

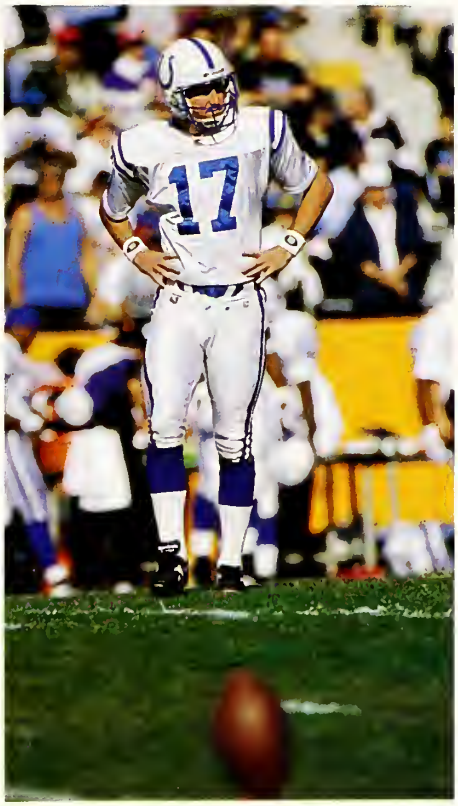
Once he arrived at Clemson, Gardocki had an immediate impact on the program. During his freshman year of 1988, Gardocki averaged 42.76 yards per punt, a feat that gained him AP and UPI Honorable Mention All-American honors. The freshman was also true on 19 of 32 field goal attempts, including a long of 52. As usual, however, the soft spoken kicker put the team accomplishments ahead of his own. "One of my many highlights at Clemson was the team winning the ACC Championship at Maryland my freshman year."

In 1989, Gardocki finished the year ranked in the top 10 nationally in punting and placekicking. He was only the second player in NCAA history to finish one season ranked in the top 10 in both, and is the only player ever to accomplish the feat twice. He duplicated his performance in 1990. He averaged 42.96 yards per punt in '89 and a Clemson record 44.48 in 1990. In 1989, Gardocki hit 22 of 29 field goal attempts, enough to earn the sophomore third-team All-American honors according to the Associated Press. Chris finished his career at Clemson with a school record tying 63 field goals.

Gardocki is still third in Clemson history in scoring (261), first in punting (43.48), tied for second in field goals (63) and third in kick scoring (261). He never missed an extra point in his career, making 72 in a row. He was a prime reason Clemson finished each of his seasons with a 10-2 record and consecutive bowl victories over Oklahoma, West Virginia and Illinois.

He would not break that field goal record, however, as he decided to make himself eligible for the 1991 draft. His decision had nothing to do with things being wrong at Clemson. "I had a great time at Clemson. It was a fun place and I made a lot of friends. It was just time for me to enter the NFL."

In the spring of 1991, Gardocki was selected in the third round by the Chicago Bears. Ironically enough, the Bears' selection set Gardocki up to become teammates with his former hero Kevin Butler. Butler was a standout kicker and quarterback at Redan High School when Gardocki was growing up, leading them to the 1979 State Championship. The Bears' selection was also the realization of a dream for Chris. "Like most kids who were sports oriented growing up, I dreamed of playing professionally. I didn't think it would ever happen though. It is a one-in-a-million kind of thing, and I am lucky to have the chance."



Gardocki had the opportunity to punt one more time in Death Valley when his Indianapolis Colts played the Carolina Panthers in 1995.

Once he reached the pros, Gardocki narrowed his duties even further. With Chicago legend Kevin Butler holding down the placekicking duties, Gardocki stuck to punting and kickoffs. After paying his dues as a rookie, he averaged 42.9 yards per punt during the 1992 season. He also ranked among the league's best in punts inside the 20 and kickoffs for touchbacks. After two more seasons in the Windy City, Chris signed with the Indianapolis Colts as an unrestricted free agent on February 25, 1995.

"I enjoyed my time in Chicago. It was a great opportunity to kick in one of the toughest places in the league to kick because of the wind," says the five year veteran, "but, for me personally, how Indianapolis is run as a franchise is a plus. It makes things much more enjoyable."

The move also helped Chris out on the field. Kicking in the RCA Dome is certainly more consistent in terms of weather conditions and makes his job a lot easier. In his first year at Indianapolis, he averaged 42.6 yards a punt, almost three yards a kick better than his 39.8 yard average at Chicago. During the 1996 playoffs, Chris continued his trend of excellent post-season play with a 40.6 yard average on 15 punts. While at Clemson, he punted in three bowl games for a 45.2 yard average. He was also good on 7 of 9 field goal attempts in bowl games.

This season, he holds a 45.6 yard punting average, and is leading the AFC in net punting with a 41.5 yard average. That mark is actually three yards better than his nearest competitor. When asked about the Colts' chances of making it to the Super Bowl, Gardocki responded, "We could possibly do it. I feel like we can compete with anyone in the league, but once you get to the playoffs, it is a whole new season. Last year we were just one play away."

While Gardocki has been specializing more and more each year on the football field, he has been expanding his horizons off of it. His wife, Sally, a Clemson graduate, developed "NFL Trivia Blitz," a board game with over 1,200 questions and answers. Chris not only helped answer some of the questions, but also is part owner of the game that sells in Toys-R-Us, K-Mart, Wal-Mart, and assorted other stores. "We sold most of our ownership in it when we moved to Indianapolis, but we still own a small percentage of it. It has been a great outside business for both Sally and me. We enjoyed putting it together."

I guess Chris is one step ahead of the rest of us when it comes to figuring out what to do when that first job change is finally made. But, the way he has been punting this year, it won't come about for many years.

Darrell Moody

by Adair Clary

Interest in football comes naturally to Darrell Moody. "I have been involved in football from the time I was able to understand the game." Moody played football throughout junior high and high school, and completed his playing career at NC. State in 1970.

Darrell Moody's coaching career began at his high school alma mater, Asheboro High School in Asheboro, North Carolina. At the time he coached high school ball, Moody says there was very little difference between football at the high school level and football at the college leve from an attitude standpoint. "Most people played because they enjoyed football." Today, Moody says that, "more players are looking at college football as a means to get to professional football."

Following his coaching tenure at Asheboro, Moody returned to his alma mater as a graduate assistant. The head coach at NC State at the time was Lou Holtz, the present coach of Notre Dame. When asked about coaching under Holtz, Moody said, "Coach Holtz was a coach who demanded hard work from himself, his players, and his assistant coaches. He was positive with the players and helped them feel good about themselves. He had a way of making people feel successful and that is why he has been successful everywhere he has been.

"I learned more about how to deal with the players in a positive light, and to see them not just as players, but also as individuals from Coach Holtz." Moody has also learned alot about dealing with players and their parents from his personal experiences of late because his sons are competing in sports.

"After listening to my sons talk about the way their coaches speak to them, I have become more conscious as to what I say to our players. Until I saw it from another perspective, I never realized just what an impact words could have on the players. "

All of Moody's coaching experiences have taught him something new, whether it was how to coach or how not to. Moody says that he has learned from every coach he has ever been around, not just the head coaches that he has served under.

"My favorite aspect of coaching is the one-on-one relationship you can develop with the players. I expect our players to work hard and to be mature enough on and off the field to do what they're supposed to do when they're supposed to do it. I always hope to have an effect on our players both on and off the field. There is nothing more rewarding than watching a player mature and be successful in the classroom and then in life, in addition to on the football field.

"I have coached several players who have gone on to play professional football successfully, but I am as proud of those who have finished school and now have good jobs and support their families."

Moody had success on and off the field as an athlete at N.C. State. He played both quarterback on the football team and outfield on the baseball team. He lettered for the Wolfpack in 1968-69-70 on the gridiron. He led the Pack in passing in 1969, two years after current Georgia coach Jim Donnan led the Pack in passing. On the diamond he was a member of the 1968 N.C. State baseball team, the only N.C. State team in history to play in the College World Series.

Looking back on his playing days, Moody says he does not have a particular moment that stands out in his mind. "Most players when they're through playing, remember the relationships that they had with the other players on the team and the friendships that they shared. You don't remember games or practice, but you remember people."

Moody was a football and baseball player for the Wolfpack between 1968-70.

Moody and his offense are doing everything they can do to make this season memorable. The offense has shown steady improvement each week and has been especially effective of late with wins over Georgia Tech and Maryland. The Tigers had over 400 yards against Tech's top 20 defense and had a season high 35 points against Maryland.

Moody coordinates the Clemson offense from the pressbox. " On the field, it is easy to be distracted by the crowd, the commotion on the sidelines and the excitement of the game. However, in the box, you are isolated from all these distractions and are able to get your thoughts in order between plays. It gives you a different perspective on the game."

Moody has plenty of experience as an offensive coordinator. He has been in coaching for 23 years, 22 as an offensive coach. He has worked at N.C. State, Southern Mississippi, LSU, Appalachian State, Tulane and most recently, North Carolina. He has coached in 10 bowl games and has tutored such players as Ted Brown, Dalton Hilliard and Natrone Means. He coached for LSU against Nebraska in the 1983 Orange Bowl.

Because he has had the opportunity to coach at a variety of schools, Moody knows that each school is different in its own way. "Each school and each football program has their own distinct personality.

"I really like Clemson because it is a true college town. Some places claim to be a college town, but they are now so big the school really is not the center of town. But, Clemson is an exception to that rule and life in Clemson does tend to revolve around the university. That is one of the things that makes Clemson special and a great place to be."

That statement has meaning because it comes from a coach who has had coaching experience in the game for nearly a quarter of a century.

Tiger Baseball

by Brian Hennessy

Consistency. That is the one word that describes Clemson Baseball for the past three years under Head Coach Jack Leggett.

After the 1995 season, which included Clemson's first College World Series appearance since 1991, things looked bleak for a team that lost two first-team All-Americans and almost every original signee to professional baseball. So what did the Tigers do despite those losses, they put together a close knit group of hard-working and dedicated players that not only reached the College World Series, but finished in a tie for third place in the country. Perseverance from unyielding players such as Kris Benson, Billy Koch, Ken Vining, Paul Galloway, Jerome Robinson; to shear grit from freshman Kurt Bultmann was the key to success for the 51-17 team of a year ago.

The upcoming 1997 season promises to be another exciting year with the return of several team leaders in Jason Embler, Gary Burnham, and Matthew LeCroy. But considering the loss of two top-four major league draft picks and Olympians—Kris Benson and Billy Koch, pitching is the primary concern for Leggett.

"Our biggest chore this off-season has been to develop a pitching staff because of the number and quality of pitchers we lost last season. We will have to do some work with our young pitchers. We have some big, strong bodies and strong arms. It's just a matter of straightening out their mechanics and getting them in good work habits."

Leggett also sees last year's post-season achievements as a foundation for success in 1997. "The experience and tradition of playing in Omaha for the last two years is something we draw from and is where we want to be again. The guys who have played for the past few years have some experience and know that they can play with anyone in the country. The younger players will have to draw from that and learn from the older players."

Although there are not as many positions to fill this season compared to 1996, the outfield, infield, pitching, and catcher spots have openings where freshmen can step-up and either start or be a significant back-up.

The pitching staff will look to some young arms in 1997. But with the expertise of pitching coach John Pawlowski, the pitchers will not lack the attention and direction that is placed on pitching at Clemson. "It will be difficult to replace the great arms that we lost last year," Leggett states. "It will take time to develop a pitching staff with so much inexperience on the mound. But the positive sign is that we have pitchers with the same ability at this stage that we had at the same stage three years ago. "

Clemson does return from the nation's best pitching staff junior Scott Hauser, who was relied upon last year as a fourth starter and as a set-up man out of the bullpen. He ended last season with a 3.15 ERA and a 6-2 record in 22 appearances. Relievers Brian Werner, Matt White, and Ray Scott also return and should see action in '97.

At catcher, Olympic bronze-medalist and starter Matthew LeCroy will be looking to improve on the 1996 season that saw the Belton, SC native hit .316 with a team-high 14 home runs, including a streak of five straight games with a roundtripper, a Clemson record. Junior Derek Borgert and red-shirt freshman Brian Ellis will compete for the back-up spot in the spring.

First-baseman Jason Embler returns entrenched as the leader of the infield in 1997. The senior from Anderson, SC finished last season as the team leader in batting average at .357, and had 10 home runs, second best on the club. Two of the blasts from the former walk-on came in the last two games of the College World Series, including a memorable one high off the light stand in right-center. "Jason is a great example of what our program is all about," Leggett proudly states. "He is disciplined on and off the field. Even though he has faced adversity through his career, he came through in a big way last year, especially with his glove."

Sophomore Kurt Bultmann is slated to be the starting second-baseman in 1997 after serving as the number-one shortstop last year. The Seminole, FL native was a late signee for the Tigers in 1996, but the scrappy, hard-nose ballplayer made an impact. The 5-8 Bultmann started 55 games a year ago and ended the season with a .304 batting average, but was even more spectacular in his last 22 games where he hit a stellar .392.

Jason Embler is Clemson's top returning hitter off the 1996 College World Series team.

The player that backed up Bultmann last season will take over at shortstop for the Tigers in '97. "Doug Roper has improved in the fall defensively and offensively, and will be looked upon to take over the shortstop position," Leggett says.

At third, Clemson will have to replace the hole vacated by Academic All-American Paul Galloway. Senior Eric DeMoura and sophomore Matt Padgett, also the starting placekicker on Clemson's football team, are in line for the third base spot. DeMoura, from Taunton, MA, is a veteran of Tiger baseball, playing in 125 games with 69 starts. Padgett played as a reserve on the infield and outfield last year. He finished the season strong, hitting a .393 average for his last 28 at bats.

The outfield will return senior Gary Burnham in left field. The South Windsor, CT native has started 149 games with a career batting average of .314. In two College World Series appearances (six games), he has impressed even moreso with 10 hits in 26 at-bats (.385 BA). "Monkey" was named All-ACC last season and is currently in eighth place in Clemson history with 54 doubles. He should eclipse the record by midseason.

Senior Ontrell McCray, with his great speed and ability to flag down balls in the gap, will roam center field for the Tigers. The Sumter, SC native saw action in 45 games last year and finished third on the team in stolen bases with seven in eight attempts. Henri Stanley will also compete for an outfield position.

In right field, Nathan Broome and Matt Padgett will compete for the role. Broome, a senior from Eastside H.S. in Greenville, SC, played in 33 games last season and hit a respectable .306. His most memorable game came against Georgia Southern, where he had three hits, all coming after the ninth inning.

Clemson's schedule features 34 home games, a four-game trip to Las Vegas, NV, and an ACC schedule that includes three consecutive mid-season road trips. Clemson will host SEC team's in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, and South Carolina. The Tigers will travel to Las Vegas on Feb. 27-Mar. 2 for the UNLV Tournament. Clemson will finish the regular season on a nine-game homestand against Georgia Tech, North Carolina, and Pac-10 power California.

Knowing the results of his first three seasons in Tigertown, which includes an astounishing record of 162-49 and two College World Series appearances, look for Coach Leggett to continue the consistency of this winning program.

Tiger Tennis

By Emily Rabon and Emma Peetz

Clemson has an outstanding tradition in Tennis. Both teams played in their respective NCAA tournaments last year and both programs should challenge for postseason play again this year. Since 1980 the two programs have combined for 20 NCAA championship appearances and 18 top 25 seasons.

With the return of five starters Coach Chuck Kriese expects this to be another outstanding team, one that challenges for postseason championships. Returning for the Tigers are doubles All-Americans Mitch Sprengelmeyer and Bruce Li. Also returning to the Tiger ranks are Richard Reyes, Luis Garcia and Ken Wasserman. The duo of Sprengelmeyer and Li earned All-America honors by finishing 10th in the final ITA Doubles poll. They finished last year with a record of 29-12.

In singles, Sprengelmeyer played number-one singles for the Tigers and finished the season with a record of 30-13. The Florence, South Carolina native had a record of 30-12 in doubles play for the Tigers and also finished 59th in the final ITA poll.

Playing at number two singles last year was Li who had a record of 25-16. In doubles play, Li posted a record of 30-15. The Sprengelmeyer and Li team won the Atlantic Coast Conference number one doubles flight with their record of 7-2. Head Coach Chuck Kriese says of the pair, "We should be excellent at the top of our lineup with Bruce Li and Mitch Sprengelmeyer returning. Li and Sperengelmeyer have established themselves as players on their way to successful careers if they continue their steady improvement."

Garcia was a freshman starter at number-five singles and compiled a 21-26 record in singles play and a 16-8 mark in doubles. He was fourth on the team for most doubles victories. Ken Wasserman played the most matches of any Tiger last season, as he had a 26-27 ledger and played primarily at number six singles. He also had a respectable 21-15 record in doubles, third most doubles victories on the 1996 team.

Devrin Carr hopes to lead the Lady Tigers to another NCAA tournament.

Wasserman and Garcia were the two starters at number-three doubles. The pair finished the season with an 11-6 record, the second most victories by a doubles team on the 1996 squad. "We have many players making a run for the number-three position. Besides Richard Reyes, Garcia, Wasserman and Aquire we have freshman Theodora Oliva in the running for that position. We have good depth, leadership and good doubles play, the three ingredients that make a good team."

Richard Reyes was a starter at number-four singles and had a record of 26-22. Reyes is a fifth year senior who was also a starter at number-two doubles. He was tied for second on the team for most singles victories with 26.

Joining the Tiger squad as a freshman in January will be Theodora Oliva a native of Brazil. Already practicing with the team is Pablo Bellagamba from Lyndhurst, New Jersey, and Sandon Barth from Charleston. All should contribute and make this a deep Tiger team this year.

Women's tennis coach Andy Johnston does not see as many familiar faces as Kriese when he lines up his team for practice this year. Johnston lost four out of six starters from last year's lineup, that's 66% of his team, and has added five freshmen to the 1997 Spring roster.

Head Tennis Coach Andy Johnston says the key to the upcoming year is, "finding consistency."

That's only one of his goals. Johnston wants to keep improving and stay in the top 25 on the ITA Rolex Rankings Poll. That will be difficult. Johnston lost two All-Americans – Sophie Woorons and Jan Barrett. Woorons finished 1995-96 playing year ranked number-eight in the nation and was a Final Four finisher at the NCAA Championships last May.

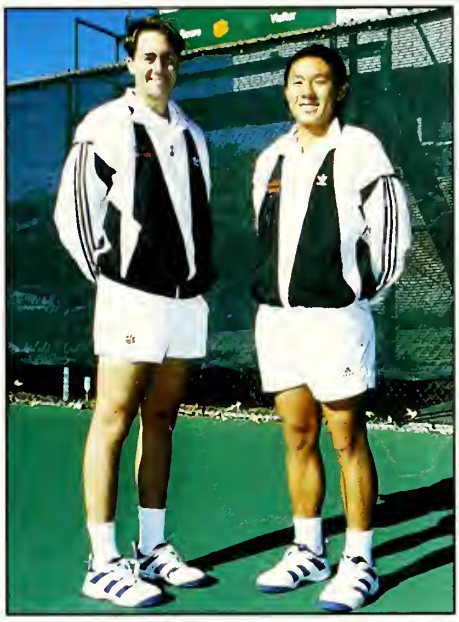
During a one-year career span at Clemson, French-born Woorons played six of the nation's top 10 collegiate women and defeated four of them in straight sets. Doubles partners Barrett and Woorons finished the 1995-96 playing year with an overall record of 31-11 and made All-America honors.

With Woorons, Barrett and Emma Peetz gone from the top three positions in the singles and doubles lineups, Coach Johnston is looking for some of his younger players to move up.

"To take our level up," Johnston said, "we need consistent performances throughout the Spring. We're very good between three and six in the lineup. Some players have to step up to compete in the top three spots. One senior this year is Melissa Odom - a situation where, the late show could be the great show. She's playing the best tennis I've ever seen her play right now."

Johnston expects Odom to peak at the end of March or late April. Odom, the only senior on the 1996-97 team, underwent shoulder surgery last Spring. "We need to get her in there to solidify our lineup," Johnston said. "Odom's got the experience."

Australian sophomore Kate-Marie Mair is another player Johnston hopes will play high in the lineup. "Kate-Marie ended very well last spring," Johnston said. "She has a big serve and forehand, and she's also a great doubles player." Mair finished the 1995-96 playing year with an overall record of 12-7 in singles and 15-7 in doubles.



Mitch Sprengelmeyer and Bruce Li are returning doubles All-Americans for Chuck Kriese's men's tennis team.

Junior Devrin Carr is one player that Johnston needs to play high in the lineup. Carr has got great groundstrokes and three years experience at playing collegiate tennis. "Devrin hits the ball hard off both sides, " Johnston said. "I need her to play some quality tennis at the top of the lineup. She improved her doubles a lot last year with Emma Peetz. I just need to find Devrin a partner for the upcoming year."

Johnston takes a positive approach with the younger players on his team. To improve, he believes the Lady Tigers need consistent performances throughout the 1997 Spring season.

"There are big growth opportunities on the team," Johnston said. "I've got a team of fighters. I'm excited about their progress and to see how we'll be at the end of the year."

Sophomore Christine Cerretani is considered the leader on the Tiger tennis team. She can motivate all the girls and keep attitudes positive. "The key is to find balance," Johnston said in regard to Cerretani's tennis. "I'm looking for her to contribute in both singles and doubles. Chrissie's also a great leader. If you're a sophomore here, you're actually a leader."

Meredith Chandler is the other sophomore in Johnston's line up. Chandler is looking to make singles and doubles selection in the 1997 season. Johnston has five freshmen on the 1996-97 team, Estresia Kruger, Catherine Galvin, Stefanie Woerz, Susan Defrancis and Nicole Eble.

Kruger is a transfer student from UT Chattanooga. Johnston expects her to help solidify his lineup. Kruger has big groundstrokes, but Johnston is looking to develop her transition game to take her game to the next level.

Building a National University

One measure of a university's strength is the quality of its graduates, and by that yardstick, Clemson is truly a national university. Clemson alumni have been in on everything from designing the space shuttle to organizing the Atlanta Olympic Games. Need proof? Take a look at the alumni pictured below. The list could go on and on. Clemson champions don't just come from the athletic teams. They come from academic departments all across campus.

IPTAY

IPTAY is widely regarded as the father of Athletic Fundraising. It all started in 1934 and from a private meeting of a small group of Clemson supporters has sprung an organization that raised over $8 million last year. The organization plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships offered by the NCAA.

The organization also has helped finance facilities that help student-athletes on and off the field. Vickery Hall, is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. It is a major reason Clemson student-athletes have had their highest cumululative GPA on record for three consecutive semesters.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson, providng $2.8 million in funds, currently helping 34 students at Clemson.

IPTAY Executive Director George Bennett has continued to keep Clemson among the best in the nation in terms of fund-raising by the establishment of the IPTAY Endowment Program. In April of 1994, he kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five-year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Executive Director of IPTAY George Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college playing days, or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever.

"Fans interested in seeing IPTAY and Clemson athletics succeed down the road now have the perfect means to do that. They can create endowments that can't be touched whereby, only the support will continue. Thus this is a way to ensure that the programs they are in favor of are continued. It has been institutionalized at several colleges and it seemed to be a natural thing to do at Clemson. We have the people who are very supportive and willing to take part."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. "Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program and that was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson.

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world. We went to him and explained the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going and he accepted."

Hudson responded favorably. "Clemson has been good to our family and I have been fortunate in business, which allowed me to be involved in this program," said the former Clemson tackle. "Two of my brothers, my son, and I came to Clemson on a scholarship. The entire family is grateful so I put the endowment of the tackle position in the family's name."

Bill Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three-year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962. His brother Bob was also a lineman at Clemson who lettered four straight years and played over 10 years professionally.

"We have a foundation in academics and it is something special to get a letter of thanks from a student who received a scholarship through our donation," said Bill. "That's a great feeling so we were willing to do a similar thing for the athletic department. The permanency of this is what makes it so important, it will be around much longer than I am. Future generations of my family will be able to enjoy and contribute to our endowment."

Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about this program will grow. Success builds on success. People who are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that. "

Besides the Hudson's family endowment four other football endowments were made and one managers position in the first year. Now there are over 15 positions endowed. The goal of the program is to get every position endowed. "From the free safety to the number three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed," said Bennett. "We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further for the positions they have endowed. That will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports.

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved."

And with more involvement Clemson wil! have a very secure future for generations to come.

Tommy West and Rick Barnes are popular speakers at Spring IPTAY meetings.

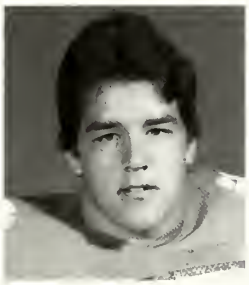
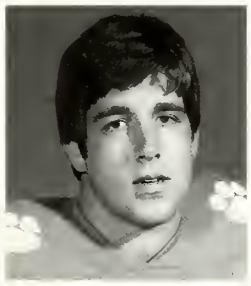
CENTENNIAL ALL-STARS

by Emily Rabon

Each week we honor members of the Clemson Centennial Team. This week's program cover features a great brother act, Jeff and Joe Bostic, who anchored Clemson's offensive line in the late 1970s. Two of Clemson's greatest defensive backs, Donnell Woolford and Dexter Davis, are also featured. Charlie Timmons was a mainstay of the 1939 Cotton Bowl Champs and Wayne Mass was an All-American on an ACC Championship team in the 1960s.



Jeff Bostic, Center, 1977-80:
Voted All-Atlantic Coast Conference in 1979...missed only one start over the 1977-78-79 seasons, and all three of these teams made a bowl appearance and won at least eight games in the regular season...key reason Clemson won 11 games and ranked sixth in the final AP poll in 1978...started at guard and center over his Clemson career...played on three Super Bowl Championship teams for the Washington Redskins and 14 years in the league...while playing for the Redskins, was a member of "The Hogs", the most famous offensive line in NFL history...only Clemson player to win three Super Bowl rings.



Joe Bostic, Offensive Guard, 1977-78:
Two year first-team All-American...four-year starter on the offensive line for Clemson, 1975-78...named the top blocker in the ACC in 1977 and the Jacobs Blocking Trophy winner for the state of South Carolina in 1977 and 1978...inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame last week...started in the 1979 Hula Bowl...played in the East-West Shrine Bowl...third-round draft choice of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1979... played for 10 seasons (1979-88) with the Cardinal organization...member of 1979 NFL All-Rookie Team.

Donnell Woolford, Cornerback, 1985-88:
Consensus first-team All-America cornerback..along with Terry Kinard the only Clemson defensive backs to make All-American for two seasons...first player in Clemson history to record double figures in pass deflections in three different seasons...Clemson's career leader in PBUs with 44...finalist for the Thorpe Award in 1988...first-team All-ACC for two years, top votegetter on defense in 1988...selected for both the East-West Shrine Bowl and the Hula Bowl his senior season...a first-round pick of the Chicago Bears, he was the 11th pick of the draft overall...currently starting for the Chicago Bears, he played in the 1994 Pro Bowl.

Dexter Davis, Cornerback, 1988-90:
Voted first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference in both his junior and senior year...honorable mention All-American in 1990 according to Football News...ACC Defensive Back-of-the-Game for his performance against North Carolina and Maryland in 1990 and NC State in 1989...led ACC in total interceptions with six, also 14th nationally with 0.55 per game...fourth in ACC in 1989 with passes broken up with 13...named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week against South Carolina in 1988...had 10 career interceptions which tied him for 10 in Clemson history and 32 passes broken up which placed him third in Clemson history...has played five years in the NFL with the Cardinals and Rams.

Charlie Timmons, Back, 1939-41:
Began 1939 as a walk on and ended it leading the team in rushing with 556 yards...scored the touchdown that led to Clemson's victory over Boston College in the 1940 Cotton Bowl, Clemson's first post-season game...in that bowl game, he carried the ball on 27 of Clemson's 51 plays for 115 yards rushing...held the school record for rushing yardage with 1,545 and in points with 129 throughout the 1940's...two-time All-Southern Conference player (1940 & 1941)...played for the Brooklyn Dodgers (football) in the NFL...inducted into Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame in 1985.

Wayne Mass, Offensive Tackle, 1966:
First-team All-American as a junior...recipient of the Jacobs Blocking Trophy for the ACC and South Carolina for the 1966 season...a fourth-round draft pick of the Chicago Bears in the 1968 draft, he was the 99th player chosen...played in the 1968 Hula Bowl and the 1967 East-West game...1993 Clemson Athletic Hall of Fame inductee...played for the Bears 1968-70, the Miami Dolphins in 1972 and with the Patriots and Eagles in 1972.

Allens' Creations, Inc. - Frame & Art Gallery - in Clemson sadly announces the unexpected death of artist Bill Stroud on July 6, 1996. Mr. Stroud, of Cayce, S.C., was 46 years old.

On April 1, 1996 a cooperative effort between Allens' Creations, Inc., Mr. Stroud, Clemson University, and the Walker Course led to the release of "The Tiger Paw Hole - #17 The Walker Course At Clemson University." This is the ONLY "officially authorized" and licensed limited edition print of the signature hole on the new golf course at Clemson. At the time of his death, Mr. Stroud had signed only 700 of the 1000 copies of "The Tiger Paw Hole."

Mr. Stroud's first Clemson print release was "On a Clear Day" featuring Tillman Hall in the winter. The remaining copies of "The Tiger Paw Hole" and "On A Clear Day" will be sold on a first-come first-served basis. Please call for availability and current prices.

STADIUM EMERGENCIES

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can frequently be more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake, and physical exertion. The two most frequent medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS:

Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK:

The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL

Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

Clemson Traditions

Death Valley

Name synonymous with Clemson Memorial Stadium. The Stadium was dubbed this affectionate title by the late Lonnie McMillan, a former coach at Presbyterian. He used to take his teams to play at Clemson, and they rarely scored, never mind gained a victory. Once he told the writers he was going to play Clemson up at Death Valley because his teams always got killed. It stuck somewhat, but when Frank Howard started calling it that in the fifties, the term really caught on. It is now in its 55th year.

Many people think the name is derived from the fact that there rests a cemetary outside the fence on the pressbox side of the stadium. But, although it would make sense, the name was first coined by Lonnie McMillan.

First Friday Parade

The Clemson football season kicks off each year with the annual First Friday Parade. The once a year event takes place on the Friday afternoon prior to the first home football game. Floats from various fraternities and sororities and other campus organizations are represented in the parade that rolls down main street in Clemson. The parade culminates at the Amphitheatre in the middle of campus where the first Pep Rally of the year takes place.

The Grand Marshall of the Parade is featured at the Pep Rally. Recent Grand Marshalls have ranged from current PGA professional Dillard Pruitt, to College Football Hall of Fame legends Jess Neely and Frank Howard, to noted television announcers Brent Musburger and Ara Parseghian.

Homecoming

Clemson holds a classic homecoming every year. Displays by fraternities and sororities that are months in the making, are built on Bowman Field the week prior to the Homecoming Weekend. It is an event that draws alumni and friends of Clemson from all over the country.

The Friday evening prior to the game, Tigerama is held in Death Valley, an event that attacts over 35,000 fans. The Homecoming Queen and her court are presented in addition to Homecoming skits, a pep rally and a large and loud fireworks display.

The first homecoming game played at Clemson took place on September 30, 1922 when Clemson met Centre. Clemson has a 52-17-3 record on Homecoming games over the years, a .742 winning percentage and has outscored the opposition 1519-930 in those previous 71 games. The average margin of victory is 21 to 12. Clemson has been especially successful on Homecoming in recent years, posting a 22-1-2 record since 1970.

"Death valley really lives up to its image. I was impressed with this stadium. When you put 80,000 people in here, it really feels like they are on top of you. I would hate to be Georgia Tech or whoever else comes in here."

Steve Young, San Francisco 49ers

Orange Pants

The tradition of the Clemson team wearing orange pants is new according to tradition standards. The Tigers first wore the all orange uniform for the final game of the 1980 season against South Carolina. Clemson upset the 14th ranked Gamecocks and Heisman Trophy winner George Rogers, 27-6. The victory set the stage for Clemson's National Championship run of 1981.

Overall, Clemson is 29-6 in Orange pants since that 1980 game, including a 16-1 record in games played in the month of November. The Tigers have won seven in a row in orange pants, including last year's important victory over North Carolina. Clemson has nine wins over top 20 opponents when wearing Orange pants, including the 22-15 National Championship clinching win over Nebraska in the 1982 Orange Bowl.

Howard's Rock

When the Clemson team gathers to Run Down the Hill the players rub Howard's Rock because of the mystical powers it is supposed to give Clemson players. The rock is mounted on a pedestal at the top of the hill and was given to Coach Frank Howard by a friend (S.C. Jones' 19) who picked it up in Death Valley, CA. The Rock was first placed on the pedestal at the top of the hill on September 24, 1966, a game Clemson won 40-35 over Virginia. The team started rubbing the rock for the first game of 1967, a 23-6 win over Wake Forest on September 23, 1967.

Clemson players have been rubbing Howard's Rock prior to running down the hill since 1967.

Running Down the Hill

One of the most exciting 25 seconds (about 35 seconds when Clemson dresses 120 players for homecoming) in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint. After Clemson's last warmup the team retreats to the home dressing room located under the West Stands. At about 12:50 (for normal 1:00 P.M. game), the team boards two buses and drives around the periphery of the stadium to the east side of the field. After everyone is properly collected, the cannon sounds, Tiger Rag is played and Clemson charges down the hill (exactly 100 feet top to bottom) and onto the field. It is one of the most celebrated entrances in sport. The Tigers have done it for every game since 1942, except for 1970, 1971 and four games of the 1972 season. In all, the Tigers have run down the hill 249 times heading into 1996.

How in the world did the tradition of running down the hill start? There is no long involved explanation, it used to be the quickest way to get to the field. When the stadium was built in 1942 the football lockerrooms were up the street in Fike Fieldhouse.

When the players were finished getting dressed they used to walk out the front door and walk down the street to "The Hill". Coach Howard continued the tradition when lockerrooms were finally built inside the stadium because Clemson fans used to get so fired up when they gathered at the top of the hill. That's when the buses came into use to spend the trip from the lockerroom to the other side of the stadium.

Running down the Hill is one of the greatest stadium entrances in all of sports

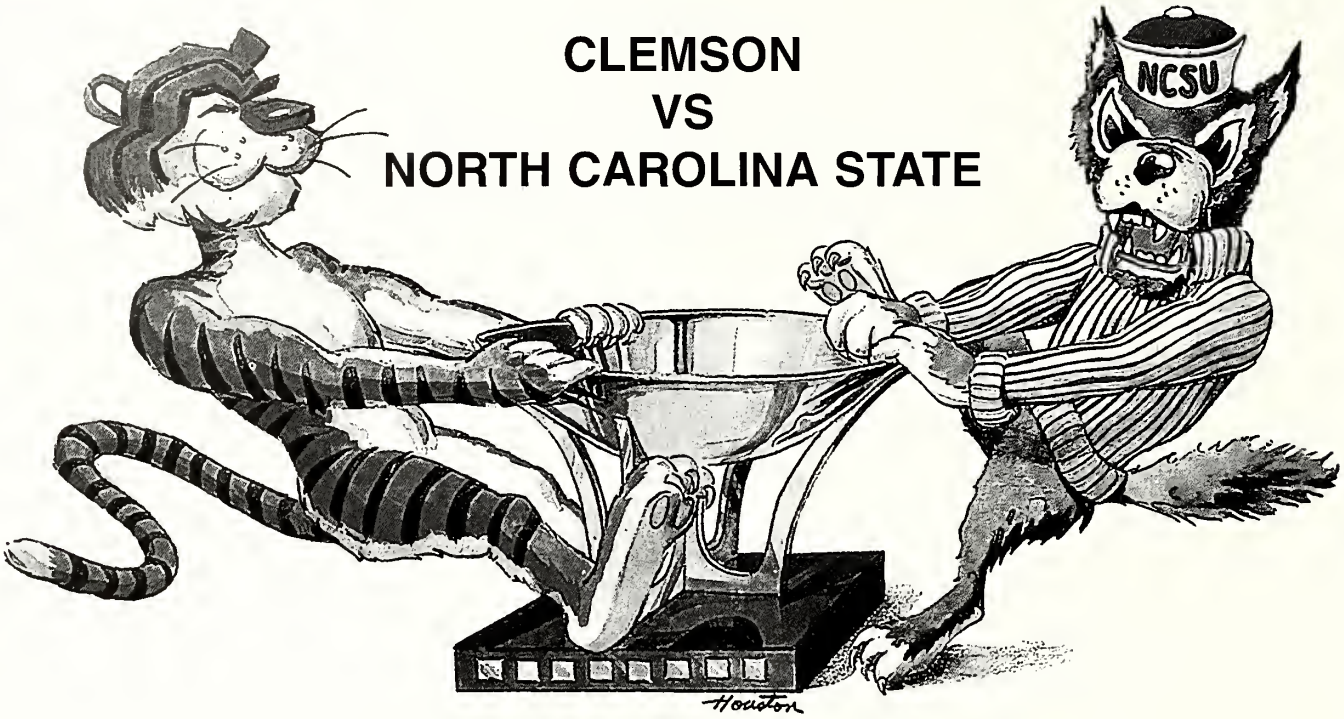
TEXTILE BOWL



The Textile Bowl trophy was donated by Textile Hall Corporation.

The Textile Bowl matches up two great universities in the Carolinas, North Carolina State and Clemson. Each is nationally recognized for its programs in textile education and training and its athletic programs. The textile industry of the Carolinas is proud of both of these fine schools, their faculty, their students and their alumni - many of whom currently serve the industry in varied capacities.

The industry is not only committed to higher education in both states but also to a better way of life for its many employees and their families. The plants in North and South Carolina produce almost half of America's textiles and provide good job opportunities in a high-tech, globally competitive setting for today's career-minded individuals.

The textile industry is also proud of its reputation as a good Carolina citizen. The industry provides needed tax dollars along with grants to the arts, hospitals, libraries and human service organizations as well as higher education, reflecting its sense of corporate responsibility.

Textiles and the Carolinas . . . leading the way in product innovation and a better way of life.

Today's Band Program

by Emily Rabon

The leaves of the upstate have made their annual change and are blowing briskly around campus. Today Clemson plays host to the NC State Wolfpack and they celebrate the 16th annual Textile Bowl, another rite of the fall season.

The Textile bowl began in 1981 to salute the two institutions for their advancements in the textile industry. Both schools do an outstanding job in this field and today's game puts the textile industry and its importance to the Carolinas at the forefront.

Another tradition at Clemson is, "Band that Shakes the Southland", Tiger Band. Known for its precision marching, dynamic sound, and famous Clemson spirit, the band performs at all Clemson football games, home and away.

Pregame festivities today begin with one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches "Washington Post". The Clemson University Pershing Rifles Company C4 presents the colors on the field. Everyone stands to honor America in the singing of "God Bless America".

After the invocation, the crowd is asked to remain standing for the Pledge of Allegiance and the playing of the National Anthem conducted by Clemson University Director of Bands Dr. Richard Goodstein. Tiger Band then invites everyone to sing the Clemson University Alma Mater.

Tiger Band then marches across the field to form the script "Tigers" across the field. Everyone directs their attention to the 25-yard line where Kimberly Weber, president of the Phi Psi Textile Honor Fraternity at Clemson, and Bronwinyn Ito, president of the college of textile student council at N.C. State, will dot the "I" in TIGERS.

Tiger Band will begin playing the "Song That Shakes The Southland" while marching to the east end zone to form the traditional tunnel. This tunnel serves as entrance for the fighting Tigers to run through. At this point, Clemson fans are just seconds away from witnessing what has been described as "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint."

The time for the excitement has arrived. The players make their famous entrance at the east end zone and rub Howard's Rock. This is a time honored tradition that gives the players "mystical powers" to overcome their opponent. The cannon then fires and the players run down the hill to face the Wolfpack.

The band makes its second appearance of the game during halftime. Today's halftime program is entitled "Bond and Beyond". Featured will be music from "Dragnet", "Peter Gunn", "Mission Impossible" and several James Bond movies.

Joining the band today are members from the Senior Platoon. The drill team performed at Clemson during its military days. There was considerable competition to be a member of this elite group. The fast stepping (double cadence) drill unit performed intricate maneuvers during its routine and always ended with the Queen Anne salute. The group performed at such places as Yankee Stadium while they were together. It is a time honored Clemson tradition, one we are proud to put on display today. It will certainly add to the color and pageantry of today's game.

Today Tiger Band pays special tribute to the Tiger Twirlers. The Tiger Twirlers have earned the reputation as some of the finest twirlers in the country. Each spring auditions are held for positions as a "Tiger Twirler".

THE LAST WORD

by Bob Bradley

Brown, Brown and Brown.

Sounds like it may be a law firm. Actually, it's Lester Brown, Ted Brown and Bubba Brown. Ted played for N.C. State, Lester and Bubba for Clemson.

And as sure as these two teams are going to play today, the same held true in 1978. That October 28th day was cool and cloudy and the temperature inched toward 70, but never quite got there.

Each team entered the game with 5-1 records. Georgia had dropped Clemson, but the Tigers had defeated The Citadel, Villanova, Virginia Tech, Virginia and Duke. The 'Pack had taken it on the chin from Maryland, but sank its fangs into East Carolina, Syracuse, West Virginia, Wake Forest and North Carolina. Clemson had won both of its conference games and State was 2-1.

There were a number of household names playing this day. Besides Brown, Brown, and Brown, there were Steve Fuller, Jim Richter, Jim Stuckey, Nathan Ritter, Woodrow Wilson, Steve Ryan, Jerry Butler, Joe Bostic, Chris Dieterich, and a few others. Altogether, a total of 16 players from the two teams would be named to the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team that year.

Fuller would wear the mantle of Player-of-the-Year (for the second consecutive season) and Tiger coach Charlie Pell would later become the ACC Coach-of-the-Year for the second straight year, and the first time any ACC coach in any sport would win that award in his first two years in the league.

But this build up of Lester Brown vs. Ted Brown got more hype in the press, with Ted the biggest wad. After all, he led the league in rushing (1,251 yards) as a junior in '77 and would end up the front runner again in '78 with 1,350 yards.

Ted closed out his career with a school record 4,602 yards rushing—and this mark is still tops among all Wolfpack runners. The same can be said for his 312 points scored. Lester is the career Clemson leader in rushing touchdowns (31) and leads in scoring behind five placekickers. He is one of a dozen Tiger runners who has gained over 2,200 yards rushing.

So this October afternoon in '78 was to be the day for the "Rushing Browns" and a capacity crowd of 45,000 showed up — many donned that burnt orange.

While Lester and Ted set to do their stuff, Bubba was getting ready to wage his own battle from the linebacking spot. And was so recognized later on.

But the eyes were on the two running backs. After the 1968 season, Clemson held a 28-10-1 advantage in the series. But Al Michaels (1 year), Lou Holtz (4 years) and Bo Rein (1 year) had beaten the Tigers six straight times prior to the 7-3 Tiger win at Clemson in 1977. And State was favored to make it seven out of eight.

After the 'Pack went three and out on a 4th-and-18, Clemson had good field position at the NCSU 47. After consecutive first downs, Obed Ariri booted a 27-yard field goal. Lester gained eight yards in three attempts in the 37-yard drive. Ted had lost a couple in his only carry of the day at that juncture.

Three plays before the first quarter ended, Clemson started another drive and this would result in a "Clemson Brown" score from a yard out. Just prior to the TD, the 'Rubber Duck' — as his teammates called him — would dash 24 yards around the left side to set the table for the first of his two rushing scores of the day.

A Clemson fumble at its own 16 gave the 'Pack life, but with a 4th-and-2 at the Tiger two, Ritter kicked a 19-yard field goal. Six seconds before the half ended, Fuller connected with Butler on a two-yard score and a 16-3 halftime lead after the extra point was missed.

Lester won the first half rushing race, 86 yards to Ted's 37. The 'Rubber Duck' had 16 yards rushing on three carries in Clemson's last scoring drive.

Midway through the third quarter, Lester hit paydirt again on an 11-yard left end run and the Clemson advantage went to 23-3.

Early in the fourth period, State quarterback Scott Smith took his team on a drive that saw a 4th-and-12 at the Tiger 13. But defensive back Rex Varn picked off Smith's aerial and went untouched 94 yards for the clinching score — the second longest interception return in Clemson history. Twas now a 30-3 cushion.

Another Ariri field goal and a touchdown by Wayne McLean with five seconds left in the game brought on the final 33-10 score.

After Lester scored his second touchdown, he had 102 yards rushing on 19 carries. His final totals would be 24 attempts, 117 yards and a pair of TDs. Ted had 39 yards on a dozen totes at Lester's second score and he would end with 70 yards on 21 tries.

When the 'Rubber Duck' crashed in from 11 yards out, Clemson fans began chanting: "Our Brown is better than your Brown." Some say that Ward Pell, wife of the Tiger head coach, was the one who started the yell.

No matter how or who started it, the Clemson fans played havoc with their noise. Once the State quarterback had to back off because the Tiger faithful were making it impossible for the 'Pack to hear the signals. I believe this happened at Georgia also, but it definitely happened this day in Raleigh when the visiting fans caused the home quarterback to back off from the line.

For his play, Lester was named the ABC-TV offensive player of the game and the following Monday, he was named ACC offensive back-of-the-week by the Atlantic Coast Sports Writers Association.

Now, back to Bubba. Quietly he went about his business of stopping the State rushing attack. He was in on 17 tackles — six solo, eight first hits, and three assists. He had two stops for minus yardage totalling five yards. He was named the ABC-TV defensive player-of-the-game, and later on, was chosen as the Sports Illustrated National Lineman of the Week.

Maybe that's the reason State coach Bo Rein said afterwords: "They have a great strength with their inside people. We couldn't block their linebackers. When we did, they just dropped back a little, but they were quick enough to recover."

Clemson's Pell called it, "the greatest team effort I've ever been associated with since I first put on a football uniform back in 1958, and that covers a lot of great games and some great players."

As things would end up, Clemson played Ohio State in the Gator Bowl, State beat Pittsburgh in the Tangerine Bowl and Maryland faced Texas in the Sun Bowl.

But the firm of Brown, Brown, and Brown laid a pretty good case on the table that day in Raleigh. The Clemson Browns won, but maybe because the Tigers had twice as many Browns as the Wolfpack did.

Lester Brown outplayed N.C. State's Ted Brown in Clemson's 33-10 victory in 1978.
